Stone Sky Lifting:

Stone Sky Lifting Lia Purpura, 2000 Stone Sky Lifting is a study in states of extremity portraying violence at one end of the spectrum and unbidden solace at the other Focusing on transforming events Purpura depicts the spiritual dislocation that can result from abiding scrutiny With a metaphysical sensibility Purpura moves between our world's abundance and its mysterious stillness in her subject matter Over the course of the book a shaken vision emerges one of trespass both worldly and spiritual and of repair The poems in this collection don't seek resolve rather they make space for paradox to root Silences become revelations in Purpura's poems

King Baby Lia Purpura, 2008-04-01 King Baby is a cycle of lyric poems both inspired by and addressed to a found object made animate then made into a confessor by the poet's fascination and by a love that alternates between the familial obsessive and devotional

On Looking Lia Purpura, 2006-08-01 These pieces are not so much essays as prose poems lyrical hymns to beauty and aesthetics Publishers Weekly Lia Purpura's daring new book of lyric essays On Looking is concerned with the aesthetics and ethics of seeing In these elegantly wrought meditations patterns and meanings emerge from confusion the commonplace grows strange and complex beauty reveals its flaws and even the most repulsive object turns gorgeous Purpura's hand is clearly guided by poetry and behaves unpredictably weaving together in one lit instance sugar eggs binoculars and Emerson's words I like the silent church before the sermon begins In Autopsy Report Purpura takes an intimate look at the ruin of our bodies after death examining the dripping fruits of organs and the spine in its wet red earth A similar reverence is held for the alien jellyfish in On Form where she notes that in order to see their particular beauty we have to suspend our fear we have to love contradiction Her essays question art and its responses as well as its responsibilities challenge familiar and familial relationships and alter the borders between the violent and the luminous the harrowing and the sensual Above all Purpura's essays are a call to notice She is writer as telescope kaleidoscope microscope and mirror As she says By seeing I called to things and in turn things called me applied me to their sight and we became each as treasure startling to one another and rare This is indeed a rare and startling treasure of a book from a recipient of numerous awards for both prose and poetry Purpura is the real deal and so is every successive sentence in this collection A cornucopiac vocabulary is married to a strict economy of expression an offbeat curiosity is married to the courage of difficult witnessing Albert Goldbarth Purpura's prose is a system of delicate shocks leaps and connections and syncopated revelations all in the service of the spirit negotiating the truth of its experience Sven Birkerts

It Shouldn't Have Been Beautiful Lia Purpura, 2015-09-29 A powerful new collection from poet essayist and frequent New Yorker contributor Lia Purpura Lia Purpura has won national acclaim as both a poet and an essayist The exquisitely rendered poems in this her fourth collection reach back to an early affinity for proverbs and riddles and the proto poetry found in those forms Taking on epic subjects time and memory metamorphosis and indeterminacy the complicated nature of beauty wordless states of being each poem explores a bright crisp singular moment of awareness or shock or revelation Purpura reminds us that short poems never merely brief nor fragmentary can transcend their size like small dogs espresso a drop of mercury
