Story Of Human Evolution:

A Story of Us Lesley Newson, Peter J. Richerson, 2021 Changes in the environment drive evolution and evidence suggests that our ancestors evolved to use cultural adaptations to survive environmental fluctuations of great severity In A Story of Us Lesley Newson and Peter Richerson explain the evidence and ideas that provide an account of how they coped using short descriptive stories to illustrate life at different stages of our evolutionary history Getting Here William White Howells, 1997 Three individuals left footprints in East Africa 3.7 million years ago Walking upright on human feet they had crossed a threshold in the long path of their evolution from vertebrates mammals and primates to enter and dominate a new world They were not alone Others related and descended in ways not entirely clear spread out flourished and disappeared some became the people of today Although we know a great deal of the story and new information is arriving ever more rapidly there is still more to be learned about where when and how our ancestors became us We do know that we arrived not because we were inevitable but by luck and happenstance along the way And we know there were other kinds of humans who co existed with each other and who might be here today but are not Now updated and revised to reflect the latest findings and their implications renowned anthropologist author and educator William Howells draws together here the latest from all today s sciences to tell the fascinating stories of our evolution Ape Man Rod Caird, 1994 A follow up to the award winning Dinosaur this book ties in with a four part Anglo American television series on the story of evolution and of the people who have devoted their lives to discovering the truth about our origins It is based on interviews with scientists throughout the world From the Beginning David Peters, 1991 Examines the history of life on Earth and traces the course of human evolution A Pocket History of Human Evolution Silvana Condemi, Franois Savatier, 2019-11-01 Why aren t we more like other apes How did we win the evolutionary race Find out how wise Homo sapiens really are Prehistory has never been more exciting New discoveries are overturning long held theories left and right Stone tools in Australia date back 65 000 years a time when we once thought the first Sapiens had barely left Africa DNA sequencing has unearthed a new hominid group the Denisovans and confirmed that crossbreeding with them and Neanderthals made Homo sapiens who we are today A Pocket History of Human Evolution brings us up to date on the exploits of all our ancient relatives Paleoanthropologist Silvana Condemi and science journalist Fran ois Savatier consider what accelerated our evolution Was it tools our large brains language empathy or something else entirely And why are we the sole survivors among many early bipedal humans Their conclusions reveal the various ways ancient humans live on today from gossip as modern grooming to our gendered division of labor and what the future might hold for our strange and unique species Seven Million Years Douglas Palmer, 2005 A voyage into the deep past to discover how we became human and how modern science is rewriting our family tree Seven million years ago there were ape like animals living in the forests and woodlands of Africa who were our ancestors They were also the ancestors of the chimpanzee It s still a provocative thought today but when the first steps toward this realization were taken most scientists still believed in the special creation of humans and the story of the flood Over the years scientific research has uncovered a fascinating human family tree with over twenty members and more extinct relatives still being identified Seven Million Years explores the discovery of our own species our nearest relatives and an ancient shared history It tells the stories of the archaeological finds the people who made them and how these powerful revelations have altered how we perceive ourselves our uniqueness as human beings and our sense of self in relation to other animals
