

A woman with short dark hair is shown from the chest up, sitting on a bed in a prison cell. She is wearing a white t-shirt and looking down with a somber expression. The background shows the metal bars of the cell. The entire image has a blue color cast.

She fought to get inside.
Now she'll have to fight for her life.

Another Freedom Svetlana Boym,2018-07-02 The word freedom is so overly used and frequently abused that it is always in danger of becoming nothing but a clich In Another Freedom Svetlana Boym offers us a refreshing new portrait of the age old concept Exploring the rich cross cultural history of the idea of freedom from its origins in ancient Greece to the present day she argues that our attempts to imagine freedom should occupy the space of not only what is but also what if Beginning with notions of sacrifice and the emergence of a public sphere for politics and art Boym expands her account to include the relationships between freedom and liberation modernity and terror and political dissent and creative estrangement While depicting a world of differences she affirms lasting solidarities based on the commitment to the passionate thinking that reflections on freedom require To do so Boym assembles a remarkable cast of characters Aeschylus and Euripides Kafka and Mandelstam Arendt and Heidegger and a virtual encounter between Dostoevsky and Marx on the streets of Paris By offering a fresh look at the strange history of this idea Another Freedom delivers a nuanced portrait of freedom one whose repercussions will be felt well into the future

Australian National Bibliography ,1995 The Journal of Commonwealth Literature ,1995 Shifting Stories Sarah M. Allen,2020-10-26 Shifting Stories explores the tale literature of eighth and ninth century China to show how the written tales we have today grew out of a fluid culture of hearsay that circulated within elite society Sarah M Allen focuses on two main types of tales those based in gossip about recognizable public figures and those developed out of lore concerning the occult She demonstrates how writers borrowed and adapted stories and plots already in circulation and how they transformed them in some instances into unique and artfully wrought tales For most readers of that era tales remained open texts subject to revision by many hands over the course of transmission unconstrained by considerations of textual integrity or authorship Only in the mid to late ninth century did some readers and editors come to see the particular wording and authorship of a tale as important a shift that ultimately led to the formation of the Tang tale canon as it is envisioned today

Gender and Space in British Literature, 1660-1820 Mona Narain,Karen Gevirtz,2016-04-15 Between 1660 and 1820 Great Britain experienced significant structural transformations in class politics economy print and writing that produced new and varied spaces and with them new and reconfigured concepts of gender In mapping the relationship between gender and space in British literature of the period this collection defines charts and explores new cartographies both geographic and figurative The contributors take up a variety of genres and discursive frameworks from this period including poetry the early novel letters and laboratory notebooks written by authors ranging from Aphra Behn Hortense Mancini and Isaac Newton to Frances Burney and Germaine de Sta l Arranged in three groups

Inside Outside and Borderlands the essays conduct targeted literary analysis and explore the changing relationship between gender and different kinds of spaces in the long eighteenth century In addition a set of essays on Charlotte Smith s novels and a set of essays on natural philosophy offer case studies for exploring issues of gender and space within larger fields such as an author s oeuvre or a particular discourse Taken together the essays demonstrate space s agency as a complement to historical change as they explore how literature delineates the gendered redefinition occupation negotiation inscription and creation of new spaces crucially contributing to the construction of new cartographies in eighteenth and early nineteenth century England

The Erotic Mind Jack Morin,2012-11-13 Challenging accepted theories about what makes for terrific sex The Erotic Mind is a breakthrough exploration of the least understood dimensions of human sexuality the psychology of desire arousal and fulfillment Nationally known sex therapist Dr Jack Morin offers a bold new perspective that celebrates the joys of Eros without denying its risks Based on an in depth analysis of over 1 000 provocative stories of peak sexual experiences The Erotic Mind offers clear accessible guidance on how anyone can utilize his or her own peak encounters and fantasies as powerful tools of self discovery The Erotic Mind explains the many paradoxes of erotic life such as why we re most excited when we must overcome obstacles how anxiety guilt and anger generally thought to have a negative impact on sexual arousal often turn out to be aphrodisiacs how we use unresolved issues from our early lives to intensify passion and why the best sex is dynamic and unpredictable rather than static and safe These and other insights combined with concrete suggestions for increasing our enjoyment overcoming our problems and revitalizing our relationships will change forever the way we think about our eroticism Perverse Implantations Laura Christian,2006 Australian Book Review ,1995

Husbands, Lovers, and Dreamlovers Helena Eriksson,1997 What do novels like Lisa Alther s Kinflicks Erica Jong s Fear of Flying Gail Godwin s Glass People Gael Greene s Blue Skies No Candy and Anne Roiphe s Up the Sandbox have in common This study argues that besides being informed by women s liberation issues they offer critical representations of masculine identity The novels present protagonists who in marriage love affairs and erotic fantasies encounter a variety of men masculinities Husbands Lovers and Dreamlovers investigates the types of masculinities that are mobilized as objects of desire in these and other women s novels of the 1970s A Stranger's Desire Kimberly Raye,2002-12-06 A Viking in life who was slain in a moment of despair Cain was collected by the Evil One and forced into servitude as an incubus a demon who strips away women s fears tastes their desires and then takes their souls But when Cain slips into Sophie Alexander s dreams he feels sweet redemption in her kiss Only the Best Jim Holliday,1986 Photography as Critical Practice David Bate,2020 The other is a topic of great interest within and across contemporary photographic practice and theory yet it remains neglected outside the now well established field of postcolonial studies This volume brings together photography and written essays that relate to aspects of otherness and visual work Presented together the images and critical writings work in concert to construct a new social perspective on questions of otherness and alterity and to highlight photography as a form of critical practice In a departure from existing conceptions of otherness in postcolonial discourse Photography as Critical Practice places emphasis on the human condition not as a liberal concept but as something formed and framed by a broader dimension of social sexual and cultural otherness In this way the book provides a fascinating new vista on the otherness of photography
