The Man Who Cried:

The Man Who Knew Edgar Wallace,2008-01-11 A youth lies dead A Constable is at the scene as is John Martin s nephew Also May Nuttall whose father was Martin s best friend A small shabby man in a frock coat pulls a newspaper advert from the deceased s pocket At the Yard whispers the constable we call him The Man who Knows The Man Who Guarded the Bomb Gregory Orfalea,2010-04-14 A boy finds himself alone with his first love in a toboggan stalled atop the Matterhorn at Disneyland A woman bitter about her marriage to a man turned blind must decide if he lives or dies A man haunted by his role in creating the H bomb suddenly disappears in old age only to turn up at Alamagordo seeking an Indian and redemption Such characters at the crossroads of emotion and ethics confounding loss and resurrection populate this unforgettable collection of tales Loosely connected the stories chronicle the lives of the Matters a captivating tragic yet ultimately exultant Arab American family Spanning continents and a century the stories center on the balm that human relationships offer In The Chandelier a boy desperate to feed his starving family hauls a stolen chandelier over a snowy mountain in Lebanon during World War I A young Mexican nurse and her lover wind their way through eighteenth century California missions in Fabiola Against the backdrop of the September 11 attacks an Arab American man is thrown from a bus echoing past racial discriminations in Get Off the Bus With a poet s ear and a historian s keen eye for detail Orfalea offers readers beautifully crafted stories filled with flawed yet irresistible characters who are rendered with great tenderness and aching complexity

Sally Potter Catherine Fowler,2010-10-01 This survey of Sally Potter s work explores her cinematic development from the feminist reworking of La Bohème in Thriller to the provocative contemplation of romantic relationships after 9 11 in Yes Catherine Fowler traces a clear trajectory of developing themes and preoccupations and shows how Potter uses song dance performance and poetry to expand our experience of cinema beyond the audiovisual Potter has relentlessly struggled against predictability and safe options Again and again her works grapple with the complexities of being a woman in charge Instead of the quest to find a romantic partner that drives mainstream cinema Potter s films feature characters seeking answers to questions about their sexual gendered social cultural and ethnic identities They find answers by retelling stories investigating mysteries and traveling and interacting with people At the heart of Potter s work is a concern with the ways narrative circumscribes women s ability to act speak look desire and think for themselves Her first two films Thriller and The Gold Diggers largely deconstruct found stories clichés and images By contrast later films like Orlando and The Tango Lesson create new and original narratives that place female acts voices looks desires and thoughts at their center Fowler s analysis is supplemented by a detailed filmography bibliography and an extensive interview with the director Communists in Harlem During the Depression Mark Naison,2005 Winner of the Ralph Bunche Award American Political Science Association No socialist organization has ever had a more profound effect on black life than the Communist Party did in Harlem during the Depression Mark Naison describes how the party won the early endorsement of such people as Adam Clayton Powell Jr and how its support of racial equality and integration impressed black intellectuals including Richard Wright Langston Hughes and Paul Robeson This meticulously researched work largely based on primary materials and interviews with leading black Communists from the 1930s is the first to fully explore this provocative encounter between whites and blacks It provides a detailed look at an exciting period of reform as well as an intimate portrait of Harlem in the 1920s and 30s at the high point of its influence and pride The Works of Leonard Merrick: The man who was good Leonard Merrick,1921

Syncopations James Campbell,2008-07-07 This compulsively readable collection of profiles and essays by James Campbell tied together by a beguiling autobiographical thread proffers unique observations on writers and writing in the post 1950s period Campbell considers writers associated with the New Yorker magazine including John Updike William Maxwell Truman Capote and Jonathan Franzen Continuing his longterm engagement with African American authors he offers an account of his legal battle with the FBI over James Baldwin s file and a new profile of Amiri Baraka He also focuses on the Beat poets Gary Snyder and Allen Ginsberg as well as writers such as Edmund White and Thom Gunn Campbell s concluding essay on his childhood in Scotland gracefully connects the book s autobiographical dots The Man who Cried Catherine Cookson,1994 Abel Mason unhappily married sought refuge in a love affair that ended in tragedy Leaving home with his young son he returned to the North But the legacy of the past remained and the burden of its secret would continue to play a major part in shaping Abel s destiny Of Gods and Monsters John T. Frankenstein both 1931 have received the most coverage of any of the studio s genre releases it is the lesser known films that have long fascinated fans and historians alike Starting with The Last Warning a 1929 movie released as both a silent and a talkie Universal provided a decade of films that entertained audiences and sometimes frustrated critics Each of Universal s horror science fiction and twisted mystery films receives an in depth essay for each film The focus is first on the background to the making of the movie and its place in the Universal catalog A detailed plot synopsis with critical commentary follows Filmographic data for the film conclude the entry Universal s The Shadow short film series is covered in an appendix Many rare illustrations and movie posters are also included The Man who Won Mrs. Baillie Reynolds,1905 No Accident Comrade Steven Belletto,2012 Drawing on novels by Nabokov Wright Powers DeLillo Didion and others No Accident Comrade examines the shaping influence of the Cold War s obsession with chance on post World War II fictional form

The Man who Cried Catherine Cookson,1979 There are men who can at times be stirred by the power and conflict of their own emotions to the point of shedding tears Such a man was Abel Mason Unhappily married to the shrewish Lena he sought release in a love affair that soon ended in brutal tragedy Abel left home taking with him his young son Dick and together they tramped their way to the North where his roots lay It was as hard and sometimes traumatic journey and at its end there seemed to open up whole new vistas of life and experience But the legacy of the past remained and the burden of its secrets would continue to play a major part in shaping Abel s destiny and Dick s character alike The Athenaeum ,1913
