The Poetic Voices of John Gower Matthew W. Irvin, 2014 An examination of Gower's skilful deployment of personae in his works showing the parallels between the way he treats love and the way he treats politics Gower's use of the persona the figure of the writer implicated in the text is the main theme of this book While it traces the development of Gower's voice through his major works it concentrates on the dialogue of Amans and Genius in the Confessio Amantis It argues that Gower negotiates problems of politics and problems of love by means of an analogy between political ethics and the rules of fin amour Amans and Genius are both drawn from and occupied with amatory and ethical traditions and their discourse produces a series of attempts to find a coherent and rational union of lover and ruler The volume also argues that Gower's goal is poetic as well as political through the personae Gower's readers experience the pains and pleasures of erotic and social love Gower's personae voice potential responses to exemplary experience prompting readers to feel and to judge and moving them to become better lovers and better rulers Gower's analogy between fin amour and politics brings the affects of the lover to the action of government and suggests for both love and rule the moderation that brings peace and joy Matthew W Irvin is Assistant Professor in the Department of English and Chair of the Medieval Studies Program at Sewanee

American Poetic Voice in the Era of Global Broadcast Allison R. Neal, 2026 American Poetic Voice in the Era of Global Broadcast Mass Vernacular examines American poetic voice at a moment when technology was changing the sound of language itself Situating the poetry of Marianne Moore W H Auden Frank O Hara and Adrienne Rich in a broad institutional and technological soundscape it reveals how poetry intersects with both specific sound technologies like the phonograph the radio the telephone and the tape recorder and a variety of vocal practices and institutions including elocution instruction live poetry readings and radio based forms of cultural diplomacy Routing their poetry through modern circuits of communication it argues that twentieth century poets created a paradoxically intimate and global mass vernacular as they envisioned lyric voices circulating in ways similar to other official and mass voices In this context the formal poetic elements that we often associate with the lyric not just voice but also tone address apostrophe and prosopopoeia in fact reveal a complex history of American cultural consolidation and global distribution Ultimately the book restores the sound of American poetic voice to its larger acoustical range enmeshed in the range of social institutions that simultaneously came to underwrite the nation's global power more generally Provided by publisher Poetic Voices Healing Our Children A collaboration of Poets on The Poetic, 2011-01-28 PROFITS WILL BE DONATED TO CHILDREN'S CHARITIES AROUND THE WORLD The poets of The Poetic Voice decided to collaborate on a poetry book to help heal our children Our book contains poems about the joys and struggles of children growing up Our second chapter is dedicated to the children and contains poetry just for them The net proceeds from this book will go to benefit children's charities all around the world We have a main children's charity that our online proceeds will be donated to Our poets are also collaborating with local children's charities to help earn money for their charities from the sales of our book We hope the words of our artists can inspire people in this world to become the village and help reach out a helping hand to those children in need If you are interested in sharing your words or wish to read more poetry from our outstanding poets please join us at <http://poeticvoice.ning.com> Look out for our next charity book coming soon Poetic Voices Healing Our World The concept of the poetic voice in American Modernism: Walt Whitman, Wallace Stevens, William Carlos Williams Andreas Hausammann, 1998
