Transforming Grace Jerry Bridges, 2017-10-03 When we think of grace we almost always think of being saved by grace That is why Ephesians 2 8 9 is so familiar to us Even Christian literature available on the subject of grace seems to deal almost exclusively with salvation But the Bible teaches we are not only saved by grace but we also live by grace every day of our lives It is this important aspect of grace that seems to be so little understood or practiced by Christians Preface

God Peter Byrne, 2017-03-02 Peter Byrne presents a detailed study of the role of the concept of God in Kant's Critical Philosophy. After a preliminary survey of the major interpretative disputes over the understanding of Kant on God, Byrne explores his critique of philosophical proofs of God's existence. Examining Kant's account of religious language, Byrne highlights both the realist and anti-realist elements contained within it. The notion of the highest good is then explored with its constituent elements, happiness and virtue, in pursuit of an assessment of how far Kant establishes that we must posit God. The precise role God plays in ethics according to Kant is then examined along with the definition of religion as the recognition of duties as divine commands. Byrne also plots Kant's critical re-working of the concept of grace. The book closes with a survey of the relation between the Critical Philosophy and Christianity on the one hand and deism on the other.

The Annihilation of Hell Nicholas Ansell, 2014-07-08 This work analyses and evaluates Jürgen Moltmann's model of universal salvation and its relation to his understanding of the redemption or eschatological fulfilment of time. For Jürgen Moltmann, Hell is the nemesis of Hope. The Annihilation of Hell thus refers both to Hell's annihilative power in history and to the overcoming of that power as envisioned by Moltmann's distinctive theology of the cross in which God becomes all in all through Christ's descent into Godforsakenness. The negation of Hell and the fulfilment of history are inseparable. Attentive to the overall contours and dynamics of Moltmann's thinking especially his zimzum doctrine of creation his eschatologically oriented philosophy of time and his expanded understanding of the nature-grace relationship this study asks whether the universal salvation that he proposes can honour human freedom promise vindication for those who suffer and do justice to biblical revelation. As well as providing an in-depth exposition of Moltmann's ideas The Annihilation of Hell also explores how a covenantal universalism might revitalise our web of beliefs in a way that is attuned to the authorising of Scripture and the spirituality of existence. If divine and human freedom are to be reconciled as Moltmann believes the confrontation between Hell and hope will entail rethinking issues that are not only at the centre of theology but at the heart of life itself.
