Return Migration and Identity Nan M. Sussman, 2010-11-01 The global trend for immigrants to return home has unique relevance for Hong Kong This work of cross cultural psychology explores many personal stories of return migration The author captures in dozens of interviews the anxieties anticipations hardships and flexible world perspectives of migrants and their families as well as friends and co workers The book examines cultural identity shifts and population flows during a critical juncture in Hong Kong history between the Sino British Joint Declaration in 1984 and the early years of Hong Kong s new status as a special administrative region after 1997 Nearly a million residents of Hong Kong migrated to North America Europe and Australia in the 1990s These interviews and analyses help illustrate individual choices and identity profiles during this period of unusual cultural flexibility and behavioral adjustment Nan M Sussman is an associate professor and chair of psychology at the College of Staten Island City University of New York Sussman effectively weaves together themes about migration and remigration from such diverse sources as arts and literature history sociology and her own discipline of psychology This book will make an excellent contribution to research on acculturation cross cultural transition and adaptation identity and migration Colleen Ward Victoria University of Wellington

Three Generations, Two Languages, One Family Li Wei, 1994 This book offers a sociolinguistic study of the Chinese community in Britain It focuses on generational changes in language choice and code switching patterns of Chinese immigrant families The social network model developed in the study is intended to account for the relationship between community norms of language use and conversational strategies of individual speakers and for the relation of both to the broader social economic and political context

Proceedings of the Speech Prosody 2008 Conference, 2006-2007 Li Yuming, Li Wei, 2013-03-22 China with the world s largest population numerous ethnic groups and vast geographical space is also rich in languages Since 2006 China s State Language Commission has been publishing annual reports on what is called language life in China These reports cover language policy and planning initiatives at the national provincial and local levels new trends in language use in a variety of social domains and major events concerning languages in mainland China Hong Kong Macau and Taiwan Now for the first time these reports are available in English for anyone interested in Chinese language and linguistics China's language education and social policies as well as everyday language use among the ordinary people in China The invaluable data contained in these reports provide an essential reference to researchers professionals policy makers and China watchers

Language Contact. Volume 2 Jeroen Darquennes, Joseph C. Salmons, Wim Vandenbussche, 2025-04-21 Targeting a full range of students and scholars this volume provides a total of 50 chapters illustrating the linguistic dynamics and the dynamics of inter individual and societal language contact as well as the dynamics of multidisciplinary language contact studies Fueled by a wealth of data from a rich variety of contact situations its geographically balanced case studies are governed by the triangulation between a focus on language structure and change a sincere drive of sociopolitical and academic agency and the confrontation with an everyday reality that can be unkind to and ignorant of those two factors The volume clearly demonstrates the social relevance of our trade in a time burdened with ecolinguistic challenges
