Species Of Mind:

Species of Mind Colin Allen, Marc Bekoff, 1999-07-26 The heart of this book is the reciprocal relationship between philosophical theories of mind and empirical studies of animal cognition Colin Allen a philosopher and Marc Bekoff a cognitive ethologist approach their work from a perspective that considers arguments about evolutionary continuity to be as applicable to the study of animal minds and brains as they are to comparative studies of kidneys stomachs and hearts Cognitive ethologists study the comparative evolutionary and ecological aspects of the mental phenomena of animals Philosophy can provide cognitive ethology with an analytical basis for attributing cognition to nonhuman animals and for studying it and cognitive ethology can help philosophy to explain mentality in naturalistic terms by providing data on the evolution of cognition This interdisciplinary approach reveals flaws in common objections to the view that animals have minds The heart of the book is this reciprocal relationship between philosophical theories of mind and empirical studies of animal cognition All theoretical discussion is carefully tied to case studies particularly in the areas of antipredatory vigilance and social play where there are many points of contact with philosophical discussions of intentionality and representation Allen and Bekoff make specific suggestions about how to use philosophical theories of intentionality as starting points for empirical investigation of animal minds and they stress the importance of studying animals other than nonhuman primates

Humanity Mike Seymour, Henry M. Levin, 2015-11-17 At a time of profound crises around the world when social justice peace democracy and the environment seem under increasing threat the promise of a world for all seems a viable aspiration for education Ample evidence from many schools today and dating back throughout the last century prove that the purpose of educating young people to develop character compassion purpose and commitment is integral with the mastery of intellectual skills and life competencies Schooling without a doubt can play a monumental part in the development of the personal values people take with them to the world Unfortunately as the saying goes if you don't know where you're going you'll probably get someplace else Educational policy directions over the last twenty years have veered far away from the important work of educating for humanity This book makes a powerful appeal to revisit educational purpose in light of what is most fundamental and important to human beings everywhere The authors address timely issues such as high stakes testing school choice and privatization of education in looking beyond these measures to new approaches to educational
