

"This is musical history of global import."

— NEW YORK TIMES

A vibrant, high-contrast photograph of Hugh Masekela. He is the central figure, wearing a yellow t-shirt and a striped skirt, with his arms raised in a celebratory gesture. He is playing a trumpet. The background is a large, dense crowd of people, also in similar attire, suggesting a festival or a large-scale performance. The overall color palette is dominated by bright yellow and green, with dark silhouettes for the crowd and Masekela's skirt.

Still Grazing:

Still Grazing Hugh Masekela, D. Michael Cheers, 2004 Hugh Masekela is a giant of world music. He was present in the most important music scenes of the late 20th century, whether advising a young Bob Marley in Kingston or organising the Rumble in the Jungle musical extravaganza in Zaire. Through his musical Sarafina and his activism, he worked to destroy the apartheid regime of his South African homeland. With its surprising humour, historical sweep, and human pathos, this closely observed tale will appeal not only to Masekela's fans around the world but anyone interested in the dramatic chronicle of a one-of-a-kind life. Jet, 2004-07-12 The weekly source of African American political and entertainment news. Jet, 2004-07-12 The weekly source of African American political and entertainment news. Still Grazing Hugh Masekela, 2015. Sunset, 1921. Bulletins, 1922. Western Field, 1908. Grass, Graziers and Tenure Larry Charles Forero, 2002. The Sunset, 1921. Report Kenya. Carbado, Kimberlé Williams Crenshaw, Justin Desautels-Stein, Chantal Thomas, 2025-08-19 What would it look like to place race at the center of international legal scholarship? From its inception in the 70s and 80s, critical race theory's target was the field of law, revealing it to be a repository for racial power. This particular critique of law was explosive because of law's putatively apolitical status, making it a unique site for an intellectual sit-in that has forever changed the way that race and racism are understood in American society. Several decades later, as indicators of populism and white nationalism spread across North America and Europe, critical race theory remains markedly absent from discourses in global affairs and international law. This volume opens the door for CRT to enter the international sphere. Featuring contributions from 30 of today's leading scholars from around the world, Race, Racism, and International Law explains how the concept of racial difference sits at the foundation of the legal, political, and social structures of hierarchy that shape the contemporary global order. Helmed by four pioneering experts—two in CRT and two in international law—the volume's approach targets regimes of power and violence that implicate racism, capitalism, and colonialism. This volume lays the groundwork for urgent and provocative new modes of critique and analysis. Afloat in the Forest Mayne Reid, 1868. *Historical Records of Australia: Governors' despatches to and from England.
