Straddling Borders:

A Research Agenda for Border Studies James W. Scott, 2020-12-25 This innovative Research Agenda uncovers links between different levels of border making processes or bordering from the political to the cognitive and connects everyday processes and experiences of border making to the wider social world It addresses the question of how everyday bordering practices and discourses can be productively linked to different aspects of social relations The SIJORI Cross-Border Region Francis E Hutchinson, Terence Chong, 2016-06-14 Twenty five years ago the governments of Singapore Malaysia and Indonesia agreed to jointly promote the city state the state of Johor in Malaysia and the Riau Islands in Indonesia Facilitated by common cultural references a more distant shared history and complementary attributes interactions between the three territories developed quickly Logistics networks have proliferated and production chains link firms based in one location with affiliates or transport facilities in the other territories These cross border links have enabled all three locations to develop their economies and enjoy rising standards of living Initially economic in nature the interactions between Singapore Johor and the Riau Islands have multiplied and grown deeper Today people cross the borders to work go to school or avail of an increasing range of goods and services New political social and cultural phenomena have developed Policymakers in the various territories now need to reconcile economic imperatives and issues of identity and sovereignty Enabled by their proximity and increasing opportunities families have also begun to straddle borders with resulting questions about citizenship and belonging Using the Cross Border Region framework which seeks to analyse these three territories as one entity simultaneously divided and bound together by its borders this book brings together scholars from a range of disciplines Its 18 chapters and more than 20 maps examine the interaction between Singapore Johor and the Riau Islands over the past quarter century and seek to shed light on how these territories could develop in the future Witnesses to Interwar Subcarpathian Rus' Patricia A. Krafcik, 2024-06-10 In the midst of a contentious atmosphere of the interwar period the far eastern province of Subcarpathian Rus attracted the personal curiosity and professional attention of Russian ethnographer and theoretician Petr Bogatyrev and Czech journalist writer Ivan Olbracht Both traveled extensively in the region and immersed themselves deeply in the life and culture of the local residents Carpatho Rusyns and Hasidic Jews Witnesses to Interwar Subcarpathian Rus The Sojourns of Petr Bogatyrev and Ivan Olbracht explores for the first time in English the legacy they bequeathed in their respective work Bogatyrev as an apolitical ethnographic collector and theoretician and Olbracht as a passionately committed Communist whose reports and brilliant stories from the region including Nikola uhaj Brigand and The Sorrowful Eyes of Hannah Karadjic capture a glimpse of a world destined to change radically as a result of the ravages of war Deceiving (dis)appearances Harlan Koff, 2007 The impact of recent shifts in global geopolitics and economic markets has led to the re conceptualization of national borders Scholars have shifted their analysis away from the narrow idea of borders and moved their attention towards the wider view of borderlands border regions and border zones thus leading to the conceptual re definition of border politics These recent approaches have identified border areas as socially constructed territories that demonstrate many of the characteristics of independent polities Border communities seem to have come to life creating a degree of autonomy and separation from central state actors While the rich literature in border studies identifies important changes in local political and economic systems it does not necessarily identify the mechanisms that create these changes Why has integration occurred in some border regions while others are being reinforced Why has integration failed in some cases where opportunity structures are positive while it has succeeded in others saddled with more limited constraints The essays in this volume address such fundamental questions

Straddling Borders Elaine Rusinko,2003-01-01 The Subcarpathian Rusyns are an east Slavic people who live along the southern slopes of the Carpathian mountains where the borders of Ukraine Slovakia and Poland meet Through centuries of oppression under the Austro Hungarian and Soviet empires they have struggled to preserve their culture and identity Rusyn literature reflecting various national influences and written in several linguistic variants has historically been a response to social conditions an affirmation of identity and a strategy to ensure national survival In this first English language study of Rusyn literature Elaine Rusinko looks at the literary history of Subcarpathia from the perspective of cultural studies and postcolonial theory presenting Rusyn literature as a process of continual negotiation among states religions and languages resulting in a characteristic hybridity that has made it difficult to classify Rusyn literature in traditional literary scholarship Rusinko traces Rusyn literature from its emergence in the sixteenth century through the national awakening of the mid nineteenth century and its struggle for survival under Hungarian oppression to its renaissance in inter war Czechoslovakia She argues that Rusyn literature provides an acute illustration of the constructedness of national identity and has prefigured international postmodern culture with its emphasis on border crossings intersecting influences and liminal spaces With extracts from Rusyn texts never before available in English Rusinko s study creates an entirely new perspective on Rusyn literature that rescues it from the clichés of Soviet dominated critical theory and makes an important contribution to Slavic studies in particular and post colonial critical
