Soviet Statistics:

Soviet Economic Statistics Vladimir G. Treml, John Pearce Hardt, 1972 The Soviet Statistical System Murray Feshbach, 1960 The Soviet Statistical System Murray Feshbach, 1962 Soviet Statistics Since 1950 B. P. Pockney, 1991

The USSR is one of the world's largest economies yet it is difficult to obtain clear and accurate data on its economic performance and its problems. This is partly due to the secrecy that has governed many of its actions and partly because there have been inconsistencies in collecting, collating and publishing the material which has emerged. This volume sets out to provide those interested in contemporary Soviet society with a consistent series of data over a time period from 1945 to the end of the 1980s for a number of areas including population, industry, agriculture, education and foreign trade. While much of the data comes from official Soviet statistics, material from other sources is used to complement these when appropriate.

The Soviet Union Soviet Union Information Bureau, 1929 Soviet Statistics of Physical Output of Industrial Commodities Gregory Grossman, 1960 Official Statistics from the Soviet Central Statistical Administration on the Fulfillment of the 1969 State Plan for the Development of the National Economy of the USSR, 1970 Soviet Statistics A. I. Ezhov, 1957 Organisation of Statistics in the U.S.S.R. A. I. Ezhov, 1967. English translation of a Russian language monograph on statistical method and the organisation of statistics in the USSR describes theoretical and practical concepts of censuses, surveys and tabulations, the system of statistical bodies etc and includes historical and administrative aspects and one chapter on co-operation between socialist countries in the sphere of statistics. Education and Professional Employment in the U. S. S. R. Nicholas De Witt, 1961 USSR, Measures of Economic Growth and Development, 1950-80, 1982 Russian Economic Development over Three Centuries Masaaki Kubonishi, Yasushi Nakamura, Kazuhiro Kumo, Yoshisada Shida, 2019-11-04. This book aims to provide a comprehensive statistical picture of the Russian economic development covering the Imperial Soviet and New Russian periods. The authors have reconstructed Russian socio-economic statistics from both published and archival materials. The book gives concise descriptions as well as new insights on the Russian economic development. Compiled such that estimations by the authors are kept to a minimum and extensive explanations and notes on the sources, the definitions, the statistical methodologies, the problems and inconsistencies of the original data and the pitfalls of interpreting the time series are given, makes this a standard reference book of the Russian economic history. It will be of value to economists, scholars of collectivist economics and scholars of Russia and the Soviet experience.
