Health Inequalities Johan P. Mackenbach, 2019-09-10 The world we live in is hugely unequal People in a better socioeconomic position do not only lead more comfortable lives but also longer and healthier lives This is true not only in the poorer parts of the world but also in the richest countries including the advanced welfare states of Western Europe which have successfully pushed back poverty and other forms of material disadvantage Why are health inequalities systematically higher rates of disease disability and premature death among people with a lower level of education occupation or income so persistent How can we expect to reduce this when it persists even in the most advanced states Written by a leading figure in public health this book looks to answer these questions by taking a broad critical look at the scientific evidence surrounding the explanation of health inequalities including recent findings from the fields of epidemiology sociology psychology economics and genetics It concludes that a simplistic view in which health inequalities are a direct consequence of social inequality does not tell us the full story Drawing upon a unique series of studies covering 30 European countries and more than three decades of observations it shows that health inequalities are partly driven by autonomous forces that are difficult to counteract such as educational expansion increased social mobility and rapid but differential health improvements Finally the book explores how we might use these new findings to continue our efforts to build a healthier and more equal future Offering a truly multidisciplinary perspective and an accessible writing style Health Inequalities is an indispensable resource for health researchers professionals and policy makers as well as for social scientists interested in inequality

The immunological regulation of extracellular vesicles on chronic diseases Zhiwen Luo, Chun Wai Mai, Jinhong Zhu, Shicheng Guo, 2024-06-26 With the transformation of the human disease spectrum chronic non infectious diseases have become the main killer of human health in modern society The interaction between genes and the environment will cause the body's immune function to be disordered thereby affecting the body's homeostasis and causing various chronic non-infectious diseases. It has been revealed that the occurrence and development of most chronic diseases such as cancer, cardiac disease, diabetes mellitus, autoimmune disease, and neuroimmune disorders are associated with the dysregulation of the immune system.

Two-dimensional Crossing and Product Cubic Systems, Vol. II Albert C. J. Luo, 2025-03-29 This book, the 15th of 15 related monographs on Cubic Dynamic Systems, discusses crossing and product cubic systems with a crossing linear and self-quadratic product vector field. The author discusses series of singular equilibria and hyperbolic to hyperbolic secant flows that are switched through the hyperbolic upper to lower saddles and parabola saddles and circular and hyperbolic upper to lower saddles infinite equilibria. Series of simple equilibrium and paralleled hyperbolic flows are also discussed which are switched through inflection source sink and parabola saddle infinite equilibria. Nonlinear dynamics and singularity for such crossing and product cubic systems are presented. In such cubic systems, the appearing bifurcations are parabola saddles hyperbolic to hyperbolic secant flows, third-order saddles, centers, and parabola saddles saddle center.
