Teaching/writing in the Late Age of Print Jeffrey R. Galin, Carol Peterson Haviland, J. Paul Johnson, 2003 Although several anthologies have collected articles on issues confronting composition studies no other text looks at student writing as does Teaching Writing in the Late Age of Print No other volume has asked compositionists to use student writing to reflect on their teaching practices No other volume has provided the rich breadth of response that reflects the current state of composition in the United States And no other volume has defined its primary task as portraying the diversity of the field through teaching practices as represented in student writing Most important of all no other volume has provided all course materials and supplemental documentation online as an integral part of such a project There is a keyword reference table that allows readers to read chapters based on key terms in the field like collaboration Each chapter begins with an abstract for easy reference The companion website for this book includes a searchable database of all the chapter abstracts assignments excerpts from all contributions extended course materials that help contextualize the printed chapters and an online forum for teachers and researchers to meet and discuss their research interests

Writing in the Elementary Classroom Community of Learners Darlene L. Smith, 2024-03-14 As the world continues to change and adapt so too should the classroom Finding an instruction methodology that can adapt to the needs of all students however can be challenging Even more so when it comes to teaching elementary writing Retired educator and author Darlene L. Smith knows this struggle all too well It was only after implementing Community of Learners in her classroom that Darlene s struggles transformed into successes for herself and her students Community of Learners is a how to guide on facilitating an innovative learning environment to enhance student writing in the elementary classroom This delivery method redefines the elementary classroom as a community where student agency responsibility and participation accelerate learning From reorganizing the physical space and teaching positions to dividing time and stating clear objectives Community of Learners COL centres student needs Using this methodology students learn to share their ideas ask constructive questions and provide peer to peer support As students take on more responsibility for their own learning teachers transition into a facilitating role Motivated by the community environment students become independent and interdependent learners who talk write and learn together Not because they have to but because they need and want to Based on Let Them Show Us the Way by Anne Green this handbook is a compilation of instruction resources and advice from Darlene s many years mentoring teachers COL may start off as a writing methodology but as Darlene experienced students will love it so much they ll want to use it throughout the school day

Literacy and Cultural Transmission in the Reading, Writing, and Rewriting of Jew Rosemary Horowitz,1998 Using the literacy practice and the literacy event as units of analysis this dissertation explores community literacy practices and cultural transmission by examining a range of shifts in the uses and meanings of Yiscker Bikher as reported by two generations of readers and writers As practices reading and writing were defined in terms of multiple activities and settings involving a variety of genres uses functions and meanings

Reading and Writing for Pleasure Teresa Cremin,Helen Hendry,Liz Chamberlain,Samantha Jayne Hulston,2025-09-12 Reading and writing for pleasure represent issues of global concern and interest in policy research and practice underpinned by evidence illustrating their importance for young people s academic social and emotional experiences and outcomes In the face of a sustained decline in children s enjoyment in both reading and writing this highly significant book presents findings from a three year study of research and practice that nurtures young people s engagement as readers and writers The book offers a rich understanding of the study highlighting the commonalities and synergies identified from the research literature and diverse practice contexts It introduces a new and powerful Reading and Writing Framework for Practice for schools and charitable literacy programmes The authors offer practical strategies and recommendations throughout for practitioners researchers and policy makers who wish to advance this agenda in their own contexts Areas covered include The nature of reading and writing for pleasure Literate identities Motivating readers and writers Social interactions Role models and connected communities Future research practice and policy This field defining text is a key resource for all those committed to halting the decline in young people s engagement as volitional readers and writers
