Transformation of Housework Bushill Ben Staff,2002-05-01 More Than a Labour of Love Meg Luxton,1980

Originally published in 1980 this new edition of More Than a Labour of Love is the first of our Women's Press Classics series which celebrates our most enduring titles Based on participant observation and in depth interviews this book describes the work women do in their homes caring for children and partners and maintaining the house It shows how their lives are shaped by domestic responsibilities and challenges the ways in which their work is neither recognized nor valued Arguing that the work they do is socially necessary and central to the economy it calls for a transformation of current social and economic relations Historical and Archaeological Perspectives on Gender Transformations Suzanne M.

Spencer-Wood,2012-12-09 In many facets of Western culture including archaeology there remains a legacy of perceiving gender divisions as natural innate and biological in origin This belief follows that men are naturally pre disposed to public intellectual pursuits while women are innately designed to care for the home and take care of children In the interpretation of material culture accepted notions of gender roles are often applied to new findings the dichotomy between the domestic sphere of women and the public sphere of men can color interpretations of new materials In this innovative volume the contributors focus explicitly on analyzing the materiality of historic changes in the domestic sphere around the world Combining a global scope with great temporal depth chapters in the volume explore how gender ideologies identities relationships power dynamics and practices were materially changed in the past thus showing how they could be changed in the future The Private Roots of Public Action Nancy Burns,Kay Lehman Schlozman,Sidney Verba,2009-07-01 Why after several generations of suffrage and a revival of the women's movement in the late 1960s do women continue to be less politically active than men The Private Roots of Public Action is the most comprehensive study of this puzzle of unequal participation

The Use of Time Sándor Szalai,1973 Monographic compilation of research results and comparisons on time budgeting in daily activities and the time factor of leisure in Europe the USA and the USSR includes time budget research methods and data collecting and examines the impact of social status on the duration of time spent on child care human relations commuting sports the enjoyment of mass media etc Bibliography pp 831 to 868 references and statistical tables
