Tiger In The House:

TIGER IN THE HOUSE CARL VAN. VECHTEN,2018 The Tiger in the House Jacqueline Sheehan,2017-02-28 The case of a lost little girl forces a child services worker to confront her own past in the New York Times bestselling author's compelling page-turner Publishers Weekly Though she loves her job at Portland Maine's child services agency Delia Lamont is feeling burned out In fact it's gotten bad enough that she's ready to leave the job and start a seaside bakery with her sister But then a call comes in a five-year-old girl has been found at the side of the road The girl reveals that her first name is Hayley but little more The only clues to her family lead to a shadowy web of danger that reaches unsettlingly close to Delia's own life As she seeks to discover where Hayley belongs Delia is forced to reexamine her own painful history With no guide but her own flawed instincts Delia must decide how deeply she can afford to venture into Hayley's case as it threatens to lead her into dark corners of her own soul The Tiger in the House is teeming with excitement and heart-stirring emotion A natural storyteller Sheehan will draw you in with her finely crafted characters and hold you tight until the very end Heather Gudenkauf

Mingus,Scott L. Mingus, Sr.,2009-10 The Louisiana Tigers in the Gettysburg Campaign June-July 1863 is the definitive account of General Harry T. Hays's remarkable brigade during the critical summer of 1863 While previous studies of the Louisiana Tigers have examined the brigade or its regiments or its leaders over the course of the American Civil War and others have concentrated on its one-day role defending East Cemetery Hill on July 2, 1863 The Louisiana Tigers in the Gettysburg Campaign is the first account to focus exclusively and comprehensively on the role the Louisiana Tigers played during the 1863 Gettysburg Campaign in its entirety

Fighting Tigers in Italy Jeffrey Plowman,2025-09-30 Examines the feared German Tiger tank its strengths and weaknesses and Allied encounters from North Africa to Italy Of all the tanks in the German arsenal the Tiger was perhaps the one most feared certainly by the Western Allies from the time they first encountered it in North Africa to the end of the war in Europe This was no small feat for a tank of which only 1,347 were produced out of a total German tank production of around 27,000 tanks This is not surprising given that it was armed with the dreaded 88 mm gun the rounds of which could pass right through a Sherman tank and whose thick frontal armour meant that it was virtually invulnerable to anything the Allies could field at that time Though a fearsome weapon on the surface the Tiger was not well suited to offensive operations It suffered from a weak transmission which often failed The lack of suitable recovery vehicles until the Bergepanther made its appearance meant the crews would often attempt to tow it with another Tiger rather than abandon it This usually resulted in the loss of both Tigers as the towing tank also broke down through mechanical failure brought about by the extra strain imposed on the towing vehicle However as a defensive weapon it was second to none especially in Italy Here the country s hilly terrain with its scattering of small villages restricted the routes of advance the Allies could take Just the knowledge that Tigers were in the area imposed an extra caution on Allied tank crews particularly after their duels with its lighter Panzer cousins Starting at the Anzio amphibious landings in January 1944 and finishing with the Senio offensive in 1945 the book draws on official histories unit diaries reports and personal accounts to look at encounters between Tigers and sometimes the Elefant based on the hull of its cousin the Porsche Tiger In this way it seeks to examine how the crews of Allied armour leaned to deal with this menace and sometimes failed to do so to their chagrin To illustrate this the narrative delves into a number of detailed accounts of some significant encounters at Anzio in Tuscany and on the plains of the Po Valley Tiger in Combat , The Tiger of Mysore George Alfred Henty,1896

The Library of Wit and Humor, Prose and Poetry Ainsworth Rand Spofford,1891 Memoirs of the American Folk-lore Society ,1924 Journal of the Straits Branch of the Royal Asiatic Society ,1922 List of members in some numbers Indian Antiquary ,1884 At a time when each Society had its own medium of propogation of its researches in the form of Transactions Proceedings Journals etc a need was strongly felt for bringing out a journal devoted exclusively to the study and advancement of Indian culture in all its aspects This encouraged Jas Burgess to launch the Indian antiquary in 1872 The scope was in his own words as wide as possible incorporating manners and customs arts mythology feasts festivals and rites antiquities and the history of India Another laudable aim was to present the readers abstracts of the most recent researches of scholars in India and the West Indian antiquary also dealt with local legends folklore proverbs etc In short Indian antiquary was entirely devoted to the study of MAN the Indian in all spheres introduction to facsimile volumes published 1985 Field and Stream ,1930 The Pomona College Quarterly Magazine ,1914 The Wide World Magazine ,1898 Literal translation of the Hikayat latifah Muḥammad ‘Abd al-‘Azîz (of Madras.),1875
