Time And The Literary:

Time and Sense Julia Kristeva, 2025-01-14 Julia Kristeva's Time and Sense is a major reassessment of Marcel Proust and In Search of Lost Time. Not only a meditation on Proust, it is also a commentary on how the experience of literature is manifested in time and sensation. Kristeva uses Proust as a starting point to reflect on broader notions of character, time, sensation, metaphor, and history.

Roman Ingarden's Aesthetics and Ontology Leszek Sosnowski, Natalia Anna Michna, 2023-08-24 This volume explores the work of Polish phenomenologist Roman Ingarden (1893-1970) with respect to his ontology, epistemology, and aesthetics. An outstanding student of Edmund Husserl, it offers a unique tribute to one of the most important figures in contemporary philosophy. Leszek Sosnowski and Natalia Anna Michna introduce a team of renowned scholars to present new and timely readings of Ingarden's thought, placing his philosophy in a broader historical and cultural context. In doing so, they offer a cutting-edge reflection on the relevance, refinement, and depth of Ingarden's theory. Chapters are not only retrospective but also set out the present and future development of philosophy inspired by his works. Reinvigorating the debate about Ingarden's phenomenological legacy and its relevance for contemporary thought, this collection of essays guides us through his place in the history of philosophy and presents new perspectives on selected aspects of his theory.

Time Restored Jonathan Betts, 2006-06-29 This is the story of Rupert T. Gould (1890-1948), the polymath and horologist. A remarkable man, Lt. Cmdr. Gould made important contributions in an extraordinary range of subject areas throughout his relatively short and dramatically troubled life. From antique clocks to scientific mysteries, from typewriters to the first systematic study of the Loch Ness Monster, Gould studied and published on them all. With the title The Stargazer, Gould was an early broadcaster on the BBC's Children's Hour when, with his encyclopaedic knowledge, he became known as The Man Who Knew Everything. Not surprisingly, he was also part of that elite group on BBC radio who formed The Brains Trust, giving on the spot answers to all manner of wide-ranging and difficult questions. With his wide learning and photographic memory, Gould awed a national audience, becoming one of the era's radio celebrities. During the 1920s, Gould restored the complex and highly significant marine timekeepers constructed by John Harrison (1693-1776) and wrote the unsurpassed classic The Marine Chronometer: its History and Development. Today, he is virtually unknown; his horological contributions scarcely mentioned in Dava Sobel's bestseller Longitude. The TV version of Longitude, in which Jeremy Irons played Rupert Gould, did at least introduce Gould's name to a wider public. Gould suffered terrible bouts of depression, resulting in a number of nervous breakdowns. These, coupled with his obsessive and pedantic nature, led to a scandalously reported separation from his wife and cost him his family, his home, his job, and his closest friends.

In this first ever biography of Rupert Gould Jonathan Betts the Royal Observatory Greenwich s Senior Horologist has given us a compelling account of a talented but flawed individual Using hitherto unknown personal journals the family s extensive collection of photographs and the polymath s surviving records and notes Betts tells the story of how Gould s early life his naval career and his celebrity status came together as this talented Englishman restored part of Britain s and the world s most important technical heritage John Harrison s marine timekeepers The Literary World ,1897 UCL at 200 Virginia Mantouvalou,2026-02-11 Two centuries ago UCL was founded with a progressive vision to open the doors of higher education to all regardless of religion or social background In its first 200 years UCL has grown from a single building in Bloomsbury into a global institution home to world leading research pioneering innovation and a vibrant diverse community of students staff and alumni This commemorative volume is both a celebration of and reflection on the university s past and present It brings together more than 100 authors from across our community to recognise our achievements and challenges and honour the enduring spirit that has defined UCL s journey Through personal recollections scholarly reflections and archival treasures we gain a small insight into the impact and evolution of an institution that has always valued free thinking dared to challenge the status quo and gone beyond traditional research boundaries to drive breakthroughs that benefit the world As UCL prepares to enter its third century this timely collection reflects on the values that have shaped the institution s work since its foundation in 1826 the importance of reasoning over prejudice the wonder of discovery the commitment to rigorous and open minded enquiry and the open sharing of useful knowledge Above all this book highlights what can happen when academics partners and communities come together to ensure research reaches those who need it most for the benefit of individuals and society Current Literature ,1891 The Literary Review ,1999 Essays on language and literature Friedrich Max Müller,1895 A History of Literature in the Ming Dynasty Shuofang Xu,Qiuke Sun,2022-01-22 This book explores poems novels legends operas and other genres of writing from the Ming Dynasty It is composed of two parts the literary history and comprehensive reference materials based on the compilation of several chronologies By studying individual literary works the book analyzes the basic laws of the development of literature during the Ming Dynasty and explores the influences of people time and place on literature from a sociological perspective In turn it conducts a contrastive analysis of Chinese and Western literature based on similar works from the same literary genre and their creative methods The book also investigates the relationship between literary theory and literary creation practices including those used at various poetry schools In closing it studies the unique aesthetic traits of related works Sharing valuable insights and perspectives the book can serve as a role model for future literary history studies It offers a unique resource for literary researchers reference guide for students and educators and lively read for members of the general public Athenaeum and Literary Chronicle James Silk Buckingham,John Sterling,Frederick Denison Maurice,Henry Stebbing,Charles Wentworth Dilke,Thomas Kibble Hervey,William Hepworth Dixon,Norman Maccoll,Vernon Horace Rendall,John Middleton
