Klaunberg, Félix Martí-Ibáñez, 1913 New York Medical Journal, and Philadelphia Medical Journal, 1913 Family Violence and Police Response Marijke Malsch, Wilma Smeenk, 2017-07-05 Police response to incidents of intimate partner violence can be critical This volume investigates the elements in the institutional legal and organizational context that are relevant for police response to incidents in the realm of the private sphere and whether there exists a relation with the reporting of such incidents by victims Addressing this complex question requires insights from research policy and practice and as such any conclusions will have implications for each of these fields This volume addresses issues that are key elements in the relationship between the legal response to family violence and the reporting by victims These issues concern societal and legal definitions of family violence employed in research policy making and legal practice how the legislation of various countries covers violence in the private sphere the way the police deal with reported incidents of intimate partner violence and the role that other interventions play in the response to and combat of family violence and intimate partner violence

Domestic Violence in International Context Diana Scharff Peterson, Julie A. Schroeder, 2016-12-19 Domestic violence does not discriminate and is prevalent throughout the world regardless of race age or socio economic status Why then do reactions and response differ so widely throughout the world While some countries work diligently to address the matter through prevention and training others take a hands off approach in their response This book is one of the first to investigate domestic violence on a global scale and provides best practices gleaned from various countries around the world to paint a detailed picture of how police response to domestic violence is currently being conducted and provide training bodies with up to date information to enhance current curricula Domestic Violence in International Context brings together expert scholars native to twelve different countries to examine the history and scope of domestic violence and how it is being addressed repressed or ignored in their thirteen respective countries Their specialised knowledge and unique data come together to create a series of snapshots that will guide nations societies and communities worldwide in formulating effective strategies to prevent intervene and combat this epidemic and examine partnerships and programmes already in place This book is essential reading for practitioners policy makers and human rights organisations as well as students and scholars of criminology social work sociology and law
