

A person is walking away from the camera on a long, straight, two-lane asphalt road that stretches into the distance. The road is flanked by dry, golden-brown grass and a simple wooden fence. The horizon is flat and distant, and the sky is a pale, hazy orange or pinkish color, suggesting a sunrise or sunset. The overall mood is contemplative and vast.

The End of History Illusion is what psychologists call the tendency for people to be keenly aware of how much they've changed in the past, but to underestimate how much their personalities, desires, and goals are likely to change in the future.
