Tōjō Courtney Browne,1967 General minister of war prime minister and unrepentant ultranationalist Hideki Tojo 1884 1948 was the most powerful leader in the Japanese government during World War II From October 1941 to July 1944 he held unquestioned control advocating and setting in motion the attack on Pearl Harbor as well as pushing forward the Japanese offensives in China Southeast Asia and the Pacific The author examines Tojo s life against the backdrop of increasing Japanese militarism civil war political assassinations and coup d tats and uses exclusive interviews with Tojo s wife to illuminate the spartan single minded incorruptible personality of the man who chose war rather than succumb to U S induced economic strangulation From the initial victories through the later severe defeats and Tojo s resignation to his thwarted suicide attempt trial as a war criminal and execution no other book offers such a clear and compelling portrait The Last Great Banzai Bradley Mason Gates,2024-07-17 On July 7 1944 all remaining Japanese forces on Saipan conducted a massive suicide attack against the American forces that had landed on the island several weeks earlier At approximately 3am the Japanese forces rushed southward on the Tanapag Plain and overwhelmed the soldiers of the U S Army s 27th Infantry Division Hundreds of Japanese soldiers continued unimpeded for 1 200 yards where they came upon the U S Marine artillerymen of the 3rd Battalion of the 10th Marine Regiment of the 2nd Marine Division Direct howitzer and machine gun fire slowed but did not stop the massive suicide attack The howitzer batteries as well as headquarters battery were overrun and the Marines banded together in small pockets with rifles and pistols in an effort to hold off the Japanese Against formidable odds the Marines withstood continued Japanese attacks for nearly twelve hours until soldiers from other units fought their way forward and finally stopped the charge The scene of carnage on the Tanapag Plain the next day was indescribable The Marines who survived the attack were in shock Those who observed the aftermath of the battle could not believe it had happened but it was one of the most dramatic days in military history Military Review ,2000 Paints, Varnishes and Brushes Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company,1923 The Chinese Recorder and Missionary Journal ,1905

C. Seppings Wright,1905 The Atlantic Monthly ,1927 Certain Victory: Images of World War II in the Japanese Media David C. Earhart,2015-06-01 This unique window on history employs hundreds of images and written records from Japanese periodicals during World War II to trace the nation s transformation from a colorful cosmopolitan empire in 1937 to a bleak total war society facing imminent destruction in 1945 The author draws upon his extensive collection of Japanese wartime publications to reconstruct the government controlled media s narrative of the war s goals and progress thus providing a close up look at how the war was shown to Japanese on the home front Many of these visual and written sources are rare in Japan and were previously unavailable in the West Strikingly the narrative remains consistent and convincing from victory to retreat and even as defeat looms large Earhart's nuanced reading of Japan's wartime media depicts a nation waging war against the world and a government terrorizing its own people At once informed scholarly and readily accessible this lavishly illustrated volume offers an accurate representation of the official Japanese narrative of the war in contemporary terms The images are fresh and compelling revealing a forgotten world by turns familiar and alien beautiful and stark poignant and terrifying

Herbert Strang, 1905 It is now nearly ten years since on one of the bridges in Osaka I watched a battalion of the Imperial Guards marching to the China war The Chinese had been driven across the Yalu and hustled through Manchuria the Guards were to assist in carrying the war if necessary to the walls of Peking There was something in the bearing of those short sturdy alert little soldiers to arrest the attention and give food for thought They had all the purposeful air of our own Gurkhas with a look of keener intelligence and a joyous eagerness that thrilled the observer In the China war the Japanese were for the first time measuring their strength It was merely practice for the great struggle with the Colossus of the North which all knew to be inevitable however long delayed The humbling of China cost Japan little real effort and we in this country hardly realized all that was at stake when European diplomacy robbed the victor of the fruits of victory The part of Great Britain at that period was regarded perhaps justly by the Japanese as something less than that of the warm friend and well wisher she was supposed to be Yet in common with other English visitors to their country I never met with aught but perfect courtesy and smiling hospitality The politeness and self-restraint of the people and their extraordinary military promise were among my strongest impressions of Japan How completely they have been justified the history of the past ten years and of the present struggle has shown
