The Translingual Imagination:

The Translingual Imagination Steven G. Kellman, 2000-01-01 It is difficult to write well even in one language Yet a rich body of translingual literature by authors who write in more than one language or in a language other than their primary one exists The Translingual Imagination is a pioneering study of the phenomenon which is as ancient as the use of Arabic Latin Mandarin Persian and Sanskrit as linguae francae Colonialism war mobility and the aesthetics of alienation have combined to create a modern translingual canon Opening with an overview of this vast subject Steven G Kellman then looks at the differences between ambilinguals those who write authoritatively in more than one language and monolingual translinguals those who write in only one language but not their native one Kellman offers compelling analyses of the translingual situations of African and Jewish authors and of achievements by authors as varied as Mary Antin Samuel Beckett Louis Begley J M Coetzee Joseph Conrad Eva Hoffman Vladimir Nabokov and John Sayles While separate studies of individual translingual authors have long been available this is the first in depth study of the general phenomenon of translingual literature

Switching Languages Steven G. Kellman, 2003-01-01 Though it is difficult enough to write well in one's native tongue an extraordinary group of authors has written enduring poetry and prose in a second third or even fourth language Switching Languages is the first anthology in which translingual authors from throughout the world examine their experiences writing in more than one language or in a language other than their primary one Driven by factors as varied as migration imperialism a quest for verisimilitude and a desire to assert artistic autonomy translingualism has a long and brilliant history In Switching Languages Steven G Kellman brings together several notable authors from the past one hundred years who discuss their personal translingual experiences and their take on a general phenomenon that has not received the attention it deserves Contributors to the book include Chinua Achebe Julia Alvarez Mary Antin Elias Canetti Rosario Ferré Ha Jin Salman Rushdie Lopold S dar Senghor and Ilan Stavans They offer vivid testimony to the challenges and achievements of literary translingualism

The Translingual Imagination in the Work of Four Women Poets of German-Jewish Origin Meike Reintjes, 2014 The Bloomsbury Handbook of Modern Chinese Literature in Translation Cosima Bruno, Lucas Klein, Chris Song, 2023-10-19 Offering the first systematic overview of modern and contemporary Chinese literature from a translation studies perspective this handbook provides students researchers and teachers with a context in which to read and appreciate the effects of linguistic and cultural transfer in Chinese literary works Translation matters It always has of course but more so when we want to reap the benefits of intercultural communication In many universities Chinese literature in English translation is taught as if it had been written in English As a result students submit what they read to their own cultural expectations they do not read in translation and do not attend to the protocols of knowing engagements and contestations that bind literature and society to each other The Bloomsbury Handbook of Modern Chinese Literature in Translation squarely addresses this pedagogical lack Organised in a tripartite structure around considerations of textual social and large scale spatial and historical circumstances its thirty plus essays each deal with a theme of translation studies as emerged from the translation of one or more Chinese literary works In doing so it offers new tools for reading and appreciating modern and contemporary Chinese literature in the global context of its translation offering in depth studies about eminent Chinese authors and their literary masterpieces in translation The first of its kind this book is essential reading for anyone studying or researching Chinese literature in translation The Routledge Handbook of Literary Translingualism Steven G. contemporary Afropeans As an identity coined and used frequently by prominent authors and critics across Europe Africa and North America the notion of Afropean is at the cutting edge of cultural analyses today Yet each writer occupies unique and different positions within this debated category While Scego is a post migratory subject in postcolonial Europe Diome is an African writer who has migrated to Europe in her adult life This book examines the different trajectories and packaging of these two specific postcolonial writers in the Francophone and Italophone contexts pointing out how and where each author practices life writing strategies and scrutinizing the trend that emphasizes the life writing autofictional or autoethnographic strategies of African diasporic writers Afropean Female Selves offers a comparative study across two languages of a notion that has so far been explored mainly in English It explores the contours of this new discursive category and positions it in regard to other notions of Afrodiasporic identity such as Afropolitan and Afro European Essay and General Literature Index Minnie Earl Sears, Marian Shaw, Dorothy Herbert West, 2000 Includes List of books indexed published also separately

Geolinguistics, 2003 Practices of the Sentimental Imagination Jonathan E. Zwicker, 2006 The history of the book in nineteenth century Japan follows an uneven course that resists the simple chronology often used to mark the divide between premodern and modern literary history By examining the obscured histories of publication circulation and reception of widely consumed literary works from late Edo to the early Meiji period Jonathan Zwicker traces a genealogy of the literary field across a long nineteenth century one that stresses continuities between the generic conventions of early modern fiction and the modern novel In the literature of sentiment Zwicker locates a tear streaked lens through which to view literary practices and readerly expectations that evolved across the century Practices of the Sentimental Imagination emphasizes both qualitative and quantitative aspects of literary production and consumption balancing close readings of canonical and noncanonical texts sophisticated applications of critical theory and careful archival research into the holdings of nineteenth century lending libraries and private collections By exploring the relationships between and among Japanese literary works and texts from late imperial China Europe and America Zwicker also situates the Japanese novel within a larger literary history of the novel across the global nineteenth century
