Times Past:

Time and History in Denis Pétau Johannes Zachhuber, 2025-11-17 This book offers the first comprehensive presentation and analysis of the innovative theory of time advanced by early modern French scholar Denis P tau Denis P tau 1583 1652 was the model of an early modern erudite Proudly Catholic the Jesuit scholar was a keen participant in the scientific and religious debates of his time In the 1620s and 30s he made major contributions to the burgeoning literature on scientific chronology respond ing especially to the work of Joseph Scaliger As part of this effort P tau developed a fascinating theory of time and history Societies inevitably exist in a temporal frame and therefore develop communal practices of timekeeping For this they adapt cosmic time to the needs and purposes of human societies They create calendars and arrange their historical records in chronological form This is a scientific task but since time is ultimately sacred reality its study has always been assigned to priests P tau therefore sees science and religion as intimately connected progress ing jointly through history and culminating in his own time The book will be of interest to philosophers of time and historians of early modern science reli gion and theology

Time Joel Burges, Amy Elias, 2016-08-02 The critical condition and historical motivation behind Time Studies The concept of time in the post millennial age is undergoing a radical rethinking within the humanities Time A Vocabulary of the Present newly theorizes our experiences of time in relation to developments in post 1945 cultural theory and arts practices Wide ranging and theoretically provocative the volume introduces readers to cutting edge temporal conceptualizations and investigates what exactly constitutes the scope of time studies Featuring twenty essays that reveal what we talk about when we talk about time today especially in the areas of history measurement and culture each essay pairs two keywords to explore the tension and nuances between them from past future and anticipation unexpected to extinction adaptation and serial simultaneous Moving beyond the truisms of postmodernism the collection newly theorizes the meanings of temporality in relationship to aesthetic cultural technological and economic developments in the postwar period This book thus assumes that time not space as the postmoderns had it is central to the contemporary period and that through it we can come to terms with what contemporaneity can be for human beings caught up in the historical present In the end Time reveals that the present is a cultural matrix in which overlapping temporalities condition and compete for our attention Thus each pair of terms presents two temporalities yielding a generative account of the time or times in which we live

Time in the Philosophy of Gabriel Marcel Helen Tattam, 2013 Gabriel Marcel 1889 1973 stands outside the traditional canon of twentieth century French philosophers Where he is not simply forgotten or overlooked he is dismissed as a relentlessly unsystematic thinker or following Jean Paul Sartre s lead labelled a Christian existentialist a label that avoids consideration of Marcel s work on its own terms How is one to appreciate Marcel s contribution especially when his oeuvre appears to be at odds with philosophical convention Helen Tattam proposes a range of readings as opposed to one single interpretation a series of departures or explorations that bring his work into contact with critical partners such as

Henri Bergson Paul Ricoeur and Emmanuel Levinas and offer insights into a host of twentieth century philosophical shifts concerning time the subject the other ethics and religion Helen Tattam's ambitious study is an impressively lucid account of Marcel's engagement with the problem of time and lived experience and is her first monograph since the award of her doctorate from the University of Nottingham The Human Experience of Time Charles M. Craig, 2001-09-30 In this highly original and ground breaking work the author brings together discussions in the philosophy of time and space philosophy of language phenomenology philosophy of science Special and General Relativity classical cosmology quantum mechanics and so forth with the concerns of philosophy of religion and theology in order to craft a philosophically informed and scientifically tenable doctrine of divine eternity and God's relationship to time
