Gamel,2017-10-19 In the Gospel of Mark Jesus arrest trial and execution ends with the Roman centurion who oversees the death process proclaiming Jesus as God s son Gamel explores two key questions in relation to this moment what does the centurion mean when he says that Jesus is God s son and why does he say it The confession is not made on the basis of any signs nor from any indication that he perceives Jesus death as honourable or exemplary This apparent lack of motivation itself highlights a key Markan theme that this insight is revealed by an apocalyptic act of God signalled by the tearing of the temple veil Thus the confession which we can understand to be made sincerely and knowledgeably is the result of an act of God s revelation alone Gamel explores the theory of Mark depicting a story in which all human characters exhibit varying levels of blindness to the spiritual realities that govern their lives By making a thorough examination of Mark s Gospel while placing primary focus on the centurion the study is unlimited and presents a serious examination of the whole Gospel Gamel concludes his argument with the point that at the foot of the cross this blindness is decisively confronted by God s apocalyptic act The offer of sight to the centurion demonstrates the reconciliation of God and humanity which are otherwise in Mark s Gospel repeatedly presented as antagonistic spheres Finally the fact that revelation is offered to a Gentile highlights the inclusion of the nations into the promises of Israel Notes on the International S.S.
