Workbook Wendepunkt:

Wendepunkt Heidi Byrnes, Stefan R. Fink, 1987-01-01 Lectures on Innovation in Building Technology Mick Eekhout, 2016-03-15 This book is a collection of articles written in recent years and used in lectures for students at the Faculty of Architecture at Delft and at Nottingham University The lectures and articles are based on a mixture of innovations in academia and industry They elucidate the relationship between architecture and building technology as well as high technology transfer of technology innovative design development and research in the Chair of Product Development at TU Delft With his experience in both industry and academia Eekhout's goal is to bridge the gap between the two worlds and to stimulate them both to prepare students to be inventive innovative and daring enough to materialize their own dreams in practice The lecture articles are based on the adventures and experiences in Mick Eekhout's design build experimental laboratory cum factory which works on projects all over the world and for many interesting clients Eekhout was able to develop an innovative technical vocabulary for lightweight structures and claddings in architecture and encourages students to attempt the same Simulation Andrea Gleiniger, Georg Vrachliotis, 2012-11-05 Digitalization has transformed the discourse of architecture that discourse is now defined by a wealth of new terms and concepts that previously either had no meaning or had different meanings in the context of architectural theory and design Its concepts and strategies are increasingly shaped by influences emerging at the intersection with scientific and cultural notions from modern information technology The new series Context Architecture seeks to take a critical selection of concepts that play a vital role in the current discourse and put them up for discussion In the context of discussions of the medial the notion of simulation plays a central role in architecture as illusion and imitation In dialogue with information technology and computer science however that notion has now taken on a new quality in architectural discourse Today when we speak of simulation we primarily think of computer simulation the technical ability to simulate processes Whereas simulation used to refer to a mode of presentation it now connects architecture with the sciences and represents a strategic and methodological instrument a tool of discovery With the scientific principle of simulation the focus shifts to the idea of modeling a dynamic system Norbert Wiener not just presenting finished products but going in search of solutions and developing systems Steel Construction Manual Helmut C. Schultz, Werner Sobek, Karl J. Habermann, 2012-12-10 Steel Construction Manual Helmut C Schultz Werner Sobek Karl J Habermann The New Technological Condition Georg Vrachliotis, 2022-10-24 In the era of cybernetics architects suddenly encountered entirely new ways of operating technical systems buildings could be calculated using circuit diagrams creativity and imagination were confronted with the technical intelligence of thinking machines Architects found themselves in the crosshairs of cybernetics At stake was nothing less than the continued existence of the architect's inventive intelligence in a techno scientific world Today we see computing machines once so heavy losing weight while gaining power Computers are fully colonizing the human environment creating their own digital ecosystems and giving rise to forms of society and ways of
