Electromagnetic Modelling and Measurements for Analysis and Synthesis Problems B. de Neumann, 2012-12-06 In this volume is presented the proceedings of a NATO Advanced Study Institute ASI on the theme of Electromagnetic Modelling and Measurements for Analysis and Synthesis Problems The ASI was held at 11 Ciocco Castelvecchio Pascoli Tuscany Italy August 10th 21st 1987 It has been my good fortune to act as co director of two of Jozef s previous ASIs and so I am well acquainted with the JKS format for ASIs As participants will realise I did not attend this ASI and so I only have a partial appreciation of the programme In particular it has not been possible to include transcripts of any panel discussions which may have taken place Readers may recall that such transcripts have formed a most interesting and useful part of previous ASI proceedings edited by Jozef Skwirzynski and helped to convey the spirit of the meetings Unfortunately it has proved impossible to locate the tapes despite the best efforts of Jozef s assistant Barry Stuart A further difficulty has arisen through the untimely death of Jozef s former deputy and colleague at GEC Research Ed Pacello who assisted Jozef with the organisation of the precursor of this ASI The following is taken from original material relating to the aims of the Advanced Study Institute PURPOSE OF THE INSTITUTE This Institute is concerned with computer modelling and with experimental measurements as two complementary tools for both analysis and synthesis of electromagnetics EM infra red IR and optical problems

Making Connections ,2006-01-01 In this book comparisons are made between the practices of classrooms in a variety of different school systems around the world The abiding challenge for classroom research is the realization of structure in diversity The structure in this case takes the form of patterns of participation regularities in the social practices of mathematics classrooms The expansion of our field of view to include international rather than just local classrooms increases the diversity and heightens the challenge of the search for structure while increasing the significance of any structures once found In particular this book reports on the use of lesson events as an entry point for the analysis of lesson structure International research offers opportunities to study settings and characteristics untenable in the researcher s local situation Importantly international comparative studies can reveal possibilities for practice that would go unrecognized within the established norms of educational practice of one country or one culture Our capacity to conceive of alternatives to our current practice is constrained by deep rooted assumptions reflecting cultural and societal values that we lack the perspective to question The comparisons made possible by international research facilitate our identification and interrogation of these assumptions Such interrogation opens up possibilities for innovation that might not otherwise be identified expanding the repertoire of mathematics teachers internationally and providing the basis for theory development
