Knowledge into Action Danny P. Wallace, Connie J. Van Fleet, 2012-06-12 The only book currently available that comprehensively integrates research and evaluation for evidence based library and information science practice Numerous books cover research and evaluation in general but not within the context of library and information science Many others cover the field of library and information science overall but with little focus on research Knowledge into Action Research and Evaluation in Library and Information Science offers in a single volume an expert introduction to these two distinct yet deeply interrelated phases of information gathering as they are practiced in the information sciences Knowledge into Action takes readers through the core principles working processes and practical tools for conducting and evaluating research in library and information science enhancing the presentation with examples informational graphics study questions and exercises directly relevant to this field It is a welcomed resource for students and scholars who want to use appropriate techniques for gathering and assessing research as well as information professionals looking to improve services at their libraries or information centers The book is also designed to educate practitioners as consumers of the research and evaluation literature and as active participants in professional conferences meetings and workshops

Environmental Social Sciences Ismael Vaccaro, Eric Alden Smith, Shankar Aswani, 2010-11-11 The relationship between human communities and the environment is extremely complex In order to resolve the issues involved with this relationship interdisciplinary research combining natural sciences social sciences and humanities is necessary In this 2010 book specialists summarise methods and research strategies for various aspects of social research devoted to environmental issues Each chapter is illustrated with ethnographic and environmental examples ranging from Australia to Amazonia from Madagascar to the United States and from prehistoric and historic cases to contemporary rural and urban ones It deals with climate change deforestation environmental knowledge natural reserves politics and ownership of natural resources and the effect of differing spatial and temporal scales Contributing to the intellectual project of interdisciplinary environmental social science this book shows the possibilities social science can provide to environmental studies and to larger global problems and thus will be of equal interest to social and natural scientists and policy makers

Benefiting by Design Chemba Raghavan,Arlene E. Edwards,Kim Marie Vaz,2008 The presence of women of color within the practical applications of social science research findings is severely limited since spaces where and when women of color enter the arenas of research methodology research question and intervention design and knowledge generation is often that of the other Benefitting by Design addresses this limitation It does so by locating the experience and knowledge of women of color as its central theme with sections of the text referring to emerging trends that attend to the need for greater representation of women of color in research and academic settings A key theme is the dislodging of currently accepted positions for the experience of women of color as marginalized and subsumed under normative modes of examination to central positions in areas of social science research and clinical practice This is in response to the typical assumption of the need to fix TM women of color be it based on their immigration status sexual orientation race culture class or spiritual practice Benefitting By Design attends to the salient contexts of the lives of women of color from an emic perspective by providing models for addressing the limitations that result from exclusion and strategies for centering the experiential knowledge of women of color in social science research and practice that is designed for their benefit Geolinguistics
