Words Between The Spaces Buildings And Language:

The Words Between the Spaces Deborah Cameron, Thomas A. Markus, 2003-09-02 Using language speaking and understanding it is a defining ability of human beings woven into all human activity It is therefore inevitable that it should be deeply implicated in the design production and use of buildings Building legislation design guides competition and other briefs architectural criticism teaching and scholarly material and the media all produce their characteristic texts The authors use texts about such projects as Berlin s new Reichstag Scotland s new Parliament and the Auschwitz concentration camp museum to clarify the interaction between texts design critical debate and response

Metaphorical Practices in Architecture Sarah Borree, Stephanie Knuth, Moritz Röger, 2023-06-23 Metaphors are diversly and intricately embedded in architectural practice and discourse Precisely for this reason this volume argues and sets out to explore how they can be engaged to critically interrogate architecture s social cultural and political dimensions past and present and to productively challenge and intervene with established perspectives debates and practices Mapping out not just potentials but also addressing the challenges limitations and dangers inherent in using metaphors in architectural research and practice the volume prominently illustrates the ambiguity and contradictoriness inherent in both metaphors and the process of engaging and exploiting them Covering a broad range of historical and geographical cases and concerns the contributions illustrate effectively that metaphors can expand or narrow our engagement with architecture and consolidate or legitimise but also destabilise and challenge established social cultural disciplinary and political structures concepts and categories With its aim to explore metaphors as both subject and method to critically challenge and expand established practices perspectives and standards in architectural research and practice the volume will be of interest for scholars working across the architectural humanities including architectural history theory culture design and urbanism as well as for researchers concerned with architecture and the city from fields such as cultural visual and area studies as well as art history

Physical Language Learning Spaces in the Digital Age Felix A. Kronenberg, 2024-02-08 How do we intentionally design physical environments for language learning and teaching How can we build spaces that are inclusive accessible safe and equitable While the Covid 19 pandemic has advanced notions of online education it has also revealed the benefits and affordances of human to human interaction in physical learning spaces This book explores the design of physical spaces intended for language learning specifically From residential learning spaces to active classrooms from social and experiential spaces to zoom rooms and language centers from mobile community based learning to hybrid makerspaces language learners and educators have more choices than ever regarding their possible learning environments Changing pedagogies and new technologies provide ever more alternatives to the normalized technology of the classroom With a focus on creating new awareness of the affordances and benefits of physical spaces as active agents in the language learning and teaching processes this book takes a practical approach to introduce readers without any prior knowledge of design or architecture to the topic As language learning spaces need to consider stakeholders from diverse cultures Felix Kronenberg provides examples from language centers around the world including Asia Europe and the United States Readers will learn how to conceptualize and create supportive resilient flexible inclusive accessible affordable sustainable and safe physical learning spaces The book is an interdisciplinary introduction to this emerging field drawing from research in disciplines such as architecture learning spaces design second language acquisition pedagogy history and sociology

Building and Using Comparable Corpora for Multilingual Natural Language Processing Serge Sharoff, Reinhard Rapp, Pierre Zweigenbaum, 2023-08-23 This book provides a comprehensive overview of methods to build comparable corpora and of their applications including machine translation cross lingual transfer and various kinds of multilingual natural language processing The authors begin with a brief history on the topic followed by a comparison to parallel resources and an explanation of why comparable corpora have become more widely used In particular they provide the basis for the multilingual capabilities of pre trained models such as BERT or GPT The book then focuses on building comparable corpora aligning their sentences to create a database of suitable translations and using these sentence translations to produce dictionaries and term banks Then it is explained how comparable corpora can be used to build machine translation engines and to develop a wide variety of multilingual applications Universal Dictionary of the English Language: Rhe-Z Robert Hunter, 1897 Incubating for Intelligence Poonrit Kuakul, 2007

Design Theory, Language and Architectural Space in Lewis Carroll Caroline Dionne, 2023-07-31 This volume offers spatial theories of the emergent based on a careful close reading of the complete works of nineteenth century writer and mathematician Lewis Carroll from his nonsense fiction to his work on logic and geometry including his two short pamphlets on architecture Drawing on selected key moments in our philosophical tradition including phenomenology and sociospatial theories Caroline Dionne interrogates the relationship between words and spaces highlighting the crucial role of language in processes of placemaking Through an interdisciplinary method that relates literary and language theories to theories of space and placemaking with emphasis on the social and political experience of architectural spaces Dionne investigates Carroll s most famous children s books Alice s Adventures in Wonderland and Through the Looking Glass and What Alice Found There in relation to his lesser known publications on geometry and architecture The book will be of interest to scholars working in design theory design history architecture and literary theory and criticism Universal Dictionary of the English Language Robert Hunter, 1899 Current contents Arts and Humanities ,2002 Ptah ,2001 Universal Dictionary of the English Language ,1898 The Electrical Review ,1897 Architectural Publications Index ,2001

Constructing a Sense of Place Haim Yacobi, 2004 Practicing and academic Israeli architects along with scholars of history geography and art from there and elsewhere critically examine the inherent nexus between ideology and the construction of a sense of place and explore the role of architecture and planning as efficient yet polemic practices that serve the hegemonic agenda The two interrelated themes on which their studies pivot are the role of architects and planners architecture and planning as mediators between national ideology and the politicization of space and how the very act of shaping the landscape contributes to the construction of a sense of place The Apartheid Wall is not mentioned World Architecture, 2002 Bauhaus Dream-house Katerina Rüedi, 2010 This original study brings critical social theory to bear on the ideas of architectural and design education at the Bauhaus tracing the spread and influence of these ideas worldwide Written for those in the fields of architectural and design education architectural history and critical pedagogy it is also for teachers and students in German art and cultural history Archives and Manuscripts, 2005 The Modern Eclectic Dictionary of the English Language Robert Hunter, Charles Morris, 1905 American Book Publishing Record, 2002 Constructing Professional Discourse Concepción Orna-Montesinos, 2012 This book explores the fascinating role that language plays in the construction of non verbal objects by mapping out the ontological meaning of the specialised concepts and the domain specific knowledge embedded in them In doing so it provides a comprehensive linguistic insight into the discourse of professional domain specific communities and hence into the communication practices and procedures of those communities In this respect the book offers a response to the claims made by many of the most influential applied linguists today such as Vijay Bhatia 1993 2004 John Swales 1990 2004 or Ken Hyland 2002 among others who have consistently defended the need for applied linguistic research into the textual generic and social perspectives on the under researched interrelatedness of the discursal and professional practices of a discipline Specifically this book provides readers with an integrative multi perspective approach to the study of professional domain specific discourses While it mainly draws on the tenets of genre theory and discourse semantics it also nurtures from the theoretical and empirical foundations of applied linguistics cognitive linguistics corpus linguistics and ontological engineering The book starts from the analysis of domain specific texts as final written products with specific lexico grammatical semantic and rhetorical features to later enquire into the written products as textual artefacts closely linked to the social context of production and interpretation of the text This integrative approach provides fresh new insights into the way the processes of writing are affected by the community specific institutional and socio historical circumstances in which domain specific texts are produced
