The Creative Present:

The Gift Lewis Hyde, 2012 Addresses the questions we face every day in our public and private lives This title argues for the importance of creativity in our increasingly money driven society God's Creative Gift--Unleashing the Artist in You Jody Thomae, 2013-02-27 God's Creative Gift is an in depth study for the creative Christian It is intended for both professional and lay artists for the casual crafter and hobbyist and for those in both sacred and secular settings It is for those who see things where others do not and for those whose imaginations cannot be confined by religious dogma and tradition It is for musicians singers painters sculptors dancers dramatists writers poets carvers weavers film editors photographers filmmakers architects designers anyone who finds inspiration in creativity Focusing on the creative spirit within it is designed to help you draw your inspiration from a Deeper Source It is deeply rooted in Scripture for the creative Christian must enter into the Word of God on a regular basis in order to know the choreographer of her steps the crafter of her designs the author and perfecter of her faith and the sculptor of her creative heart soul mind and body And to know Him intimately

The Politics of Orientation Hannah Richter, 2023-10-01 The Politics of Orientation provides the first substantial exploration of a surprising theoretical kinship and its rich political implications between Gilles Deleuze's philosophy and the sociological systems theory of Niklas Luhmann Through their shared theories of sense Hannah Richter draws out how the works of Luhmann and Deleuze complement each other in creating worlds where chaos is the norm and order the unlikely and yet remarkably stable exception From the encounter between Deleuze and Luhmann Richter develops a novel take on postfoundational ontology where subjects and societies unfold in self productive relations of sense against a background of complexity The Politics of Orientation breaks and rebuilds theoretical alliances by reading core concepts and thinkers of Continental Philosophy from Leibniz to Whitehead and Marx through this encounter Most importantly the book puts Luhmann and Deleuze to work to offer urgently needed insight into the rise of post truth populism In our complex democratic societies Richter argues orientation against complexity has become the ground of political power privileging the simplistic narratives of the populist right

Transforming Process Theism Lewis S. Ford, 2000-05-18 Process theism in a variety of manifestations and modifications stemming from Whitehead's original suggestions dominates discussions of philosophical and natural theology in Europe and America In Transforming Process Theism Ford argues that subsequent modifications of Whitehead's original line of thought mask a fundamental and unresolved aporia in that original proposal since only past or objectified determinate events can influence present experiences and since God as conceived by Whitehead is never fully determinate or objectifiable as a past event it is difficult to see how this divine persuasive power can have any influence on the present as a source of creativity and genuinely new possibilities for enactment Ford meticulously reconstructs and evaluates Whitehead's own versions of theism and he critically appraises the most influential subsequent modifications of these unrecognized variants by other process thinkers He recovers the original trajectory of Whitehead's continuous revision of his conception of God and forges an appropriate solution to this central aporia. He concludes that consistent with Whitehead's overarching metaphysical principles there is another kind of causal influence that does not require objectification and is the opposite of past determinateness. The future conceived as active offers an account of subjectivity which is both universal and transcendent. God according to Ford's revisions must be understood as this particular but indefinite creativity or universal activity of the future bestowing subjectivity on each present occasion of experience without ever becoming determinate.

 Peter Jarvis, Mary Watts, 2011-12-15

As our understanding of learning focuses on the whole person rather than individual aspects of learning so the process of learning is beginning to be studied from a wide variety of perspectives and disciplines. This handbook presents a comprehensive overview of the contemporary research into learning; it brings together a diverse range of specialities with chapters written by leading scholars throughout the world from a wide variety of different approaches. The International Handbook of Learning captures the complexities of the learning process in seven major parts. Its 54 chapters are sub-divided in seven parts: Learning and the person; senses, cognitions, emotions, personality traits and learning styles; Learning across the lifespan; Life-wide learning; Learning across the disciplines covering everything from anthropology to neuroscience; Meaning systems interpretation; Learning and disability; Historical and contemporary learning theorists. Written by international experts, this book is the first comprehensive multi-disciplinary analysis of learning, packing a diverse collection of research into one accessible volume.
