South Of Nowhere:

Rare & Vacant Hour Ivan Rehorek, 2010-07-12 I am avalanche since I am big and white and knock things over and go whoooosh a lot and cover a lot of ground with much roaring and gusto and wheeling and spinning By definition a mountain getting its rocks off Ivan Gabriel Rehorek aka Avalanche The Beat and Romantic traditions live on in the poetry of Ivan Rehorek aka Avalanche a veteran performer whose saxophone accompanied throaty voiced delivery quickly galvanized Adelaide South Australia s poetry scene Genuinely engaging Avalanche quickly found a position on the committee of Adelaide s poetry establishment Friendly Street co editing that year anthology his cats series of poems being especial favourites of both the city s poetry establishment and the burgeoning underground scene In quick time he assembled his first book of verse edited by veteran poet Dr Graham Rowlands Not content with the mainstream Avalanche continued to perform on the underground circuit contributing the cover art to transgender author Teri Louise Kelly s ARTS SA sponsored spoken word CD Love in Words and Feet For his debut work A Rare and Vacant Hour Rehorek assembled a collection of popular performance pieces and never before seen works assembled during his years as a beat club performer

Commemorating War Timothy G. Ashplant, Graham Dawson, Michael Roper, War memory and commemoration have had increasingly high profiles in public and academic debates in recent years This volume examines some of the social changes that have led to this development among them the passing of the two world wars from survivor into cultural memory Focusing on the politics of war memory and commemoration the book illuminates the struggle to install particular memories at the center of a cultural world and offers an extensive argument about how the politics of commemoration practices should be understood Commemorating War analyzes a range of forms of remembrance from public commemorations orchestrated by nation states to personal testimonies of war survivors and from cultural memories of war represented in films plays and novels to investigations of wartime atrocities in courts of human rights It presents a wide range of international case studies encompassing lesser known national histories and wars beyond the well trodden terrain of Vietnam and the two world wars in Europe Emerging from this book is an important critique of both state centered approaches to war memory and those that regard commemoration primarily as a human response to loss and grief Offering a wealth of empirical research material this book will be important for cultural and oral historians sociologists researchers in international relations and human rights and anybody with an interest in the cultural construction of memory in contemporary society Timothy G Ashplant is a member of the Research Center for Literature and Cultural History at Liverpool John Moores University He has published on psychoanalysis and history and the life writings of working class men and women in Britain Graham Dawson teaches cultural and historical studies at the University of Brighton His publications include Soldier Heroes British Adventure Empire and the Imagining of Masculinities and Trauma and Life Stories with Kim Lacy Rogers and Selma Leydesdorff Michael Roper works as a social and cultural historian in the Department of Sociology at the University of Essex His previous publications include

Manful Assertions Masculinities in Britain since 1800 with John Tosh and Masculinity and the British Organization Man since 1945 Teen Television Sharon Marie Ross,Louisa Ellen Stein,2008-04-05 This essay collection explores the phenomenon of teen TV in the United States analyzing the meanings and manifestations of this category of programming from a variety of perspectives Part One views teen television through an industrial perspective examining how networks such as WB UPN The CW and The N have created a unique economic framework based on demographic niches and teen focused narrowcasting Part Two focuses on popular teen programs from a cultural context evaluating how such programs reflect and at times stretch the envelope of the cultural contexts in which they are created Finally Part Three explores the cultures of reception including the realms of teen consumerism fan discourse and unofficial production through which teens and consumers of teen media have become authors of the teenage experience in their own right Rethinking the Children's Television Act for a Digital Media Age United States.
