Christopher MacGowan, The College of William and Mary Faulkner and Formalism Annette Trefzer, Ann J. Abadie, 2012-05-01 Faulkner and Formalism: Returns of the Text collects eleven essays presented at the Thirty-fifth Annual Faulkner and Yoknapatawpha Conference sponsored by the University of Mississippi in Oxford on July 20-24, 2008. Contributors query the status of Faulkner's literary text in contemporary criticism and scholarship. How do scholars today approach Faulkner's texts? For some, including Arthur F. Kinney and James B. Carothers, "returns of the text" is a phrase that raises questions of aesthetics, poetics, and authority. For others, the phrase serves as an invitation to return to Faulkner's language to writing and the letter itself. Serena Blount Owen, Robinson James Harding, and Taylor Hagood interpret "returns of the text" in the sense in which Roland Barthes characterizes this shift in his seminal essay "From Work to Text." For Barthes, the text is not to be thought of as an object but as a methodological field, a notion quite different from the New Critical understanding of the work as a unified construct with intrinsic aesthetic value. Faulkner's language itself is under close scrutiny in some of the readings that emphasize a deconstructive or a semiological approach to his writing. Historical and cultural contexts continue to play significant roles; however, in many of the essays, the contributions by Thadious Davis, Ted Atkinson, Martyn Bone, and Ethel Young Minor, by no means ignore the cultural contexts but instead of approaching the literary text as a reflection or representation of that context, whether historical, economic, political, or social, these readings stress the role of the text as a challenge to the power of external ideological systems. By retaining a bond with new historicist analysis and cultural studies, these essays are illustrative of a kind of analysis that carefully preserves attention to Faulkner's sociopolitical environment. The concluding essay by Theresa Towner issues an invitation to return to Faulkner's less well-known short stories for critical exposure and the pleasure of reading. The South Atlantic Quarterly John Spencer Bassett, Edwin Mims, William Henry Glasson, William Preston Few, William Kenneth Boyd, William Hane Wannamaker, 1914

The Illustrated American, 1890 The American Southern Gothic on Screen Karen Horsley, 2025-10-01 The Southern Gothic on Screen explores a body of screen texts that conform to certain generic conventions and aesthetics that since the early twentieth century have led to the construction of the American South as a space of ruin, decay, melancholy, loss, and haunting. The book considers the cultural significance of the Southern Gothic on screen by examining southern otherness as the primary mechanism through which the South is rendered a space of darkness and danger. This opens up a critical space for the Southern Gothic to be discussed as a screen genre with its own complex visual, thematic, and narrative codes. The book establishes a perspective that synthesizes a broad understanding of Southern Gothic genericity with pre-existing cultural and political discourses on the South resulting in an analysis that is specific to film and television while remaining heedful of the intersecting discourses that inform both the Gothic and the South as historic and mediated constructs The American Stationer ,1893 The Publishers Weekly ,1922 America's Greatest Men and Women ,1894 The Literary Digest Edward Jewitt Wheeler, Isaac Kaufman Funk, William Seaver Woods, Arthur Stimson Draper, Wilfred John Funk, 1903 Literary Digest: a Repository of Contemporaneous Thought and Research as Presented in the Periodical Literature of the World Edward Jewitt Wheeler, Isaac Kaufman Funk, William Seaver Woods, 1903 The Christian Union Henry Ward Beecher, 1884 Digest ,1903 The Publishers' Circular and Booksellers' Record of British and Foreign Literature ,1895 Catalogues- American Art Association, Anderson Galleries, Inc American Art Association, Anderson Galleries (Firm), 1924 The Library of John Quinn John Quinn, 1924 The Academy ,1886
