Authoritative Governance Maarten A. Hajer,2011-03-03 The role of the media has become a central part of politics and policy in the twenty first century That dominance has led many to suggest a trend of dumbing down the privileging of style over content In this provocative new book Maarten Hajer takes issue with the dumbing down thesis both on theoretical and empirical grounds He aims to show how authoritative governance remains possible in crisis driven circumstances and a highly mediatized world The book elaborates a communicative understanding of authority which the author argues can create a new basis for authoritative governance in a world marked by political and institutional fragmentation Extending his discourse analytical framework Hajer uses both discursive and dramaturgical methods to study policymakers in their struggle for authority Three detailed case studies the plans to rebuild Ground Zero the aftermath of the assassination of Theo Van Gogh and the recent role of the British Food Standards Agency provide a wealth of detail of the dynamics of authority in today s mediatized polity and bring out the peculiar role that crises now play The argument of the book is that in the age of mediatization governance needs to be performed Hajer describes a genuinely new authoritative governance that breaks with existing interpretations He demonstrates ways in which the traditional government of standing institutions and notions of
