The River Queen Mary Morris, 2008-05-27 This story of a middle aged woman's odyssey down the Mississippi River is a funny beautifully written and poignant tale of a journey that transforms a life In the fall of 2005 acclaimed writer Mary Morris set off down the Mississippi River in a battered old houseboat called The River Queen with two river rats named Tom and Jerry and an ailing irascible rat terrier named Samantha Jean Her father had just died Her daughter had gone off to college Lost and uncertain Morris returned to the river of her youth to the waterside towns where her father had once lived In this poignant and often humorous memoir Morris reclaims the world of her childhood as she gets a bearing on her future She describes traveling down stream through the Midwest living like a pirate as she survives a tornado and infestation of mayflies bivouacs on beaches and ties up to paddleboats in the dark of night As she learns to pilot the River Queen through these fabled waters Morris delivers a memoir that deserves to be both a best seller and a classic
