Thinking About Islam:

Thinking about Islam John Bernard Taylor, Raymond Trudigan, 1983 From the Thinking About Religions series a series for people aged 16 which gives a sympathetic account of the practices and beliefs of the world's major faiths Living as we do in a pluralist society with a wide variety of culture and religion the study of world religions can no longer be a rapid survey that does no more than offer the student a slight acquaintance with the historical founder of a faith together with a knowledge of the more unusual customs and traditions associated with his followers who are through of as living in some remote part of the world The religions of the world are on our doorstep in the press and on television if not literally in our road This book one of a series seeks to bring understanding and tolerance in a diverse society and it is the hope of editor authors and publishers that study of this kind will also help the reader to an understanding of his or her own faith at a deeper level Islam has a belief in one God whose authority extends to every part of life It is a complete way of life covering personal behaviour social conventions literature art and politics Its moral obligations are clear and definite Those who practise Islam have a strong feeling of togetherness and a burning desire to do the will of God Religion as Critique Irfan Ahmad, 2017-11-20 Irfan Ahmad makes the far reaching argument that potent systems and modes for self critique as well as critique of others are inherent in Islam indeed critique is integral to its fundamental tenets and practices Challenging common views of Islam as hostile to critical thinking Ahmad delineates thriving traditions of critique in Islamic culture focusing in large part on South Asian traditions Ahmad interrogates Greek and Enlightenment notions of reason and critique and he notes how they are invoked in relation to others including Muslims Drafting an alternative genealogy of critique in Islam Ahmad reads religious teachings and texts drawing on sources in Hindi Urdu Farsi and English and demonstrates how they serve as expressions of critique Throughout he depicts Islam as an agent not an object of critique On a broader level Ahmad expands the idea of critique itself Drawing on his fieldwork among marketplace hawkers in Delhi and Aligarh he construes critique anthropologically as a sociocultural activity in the everyday lives of ordinary Muslims beyond the world of intellectuals Religion as Critique allows space for new theoretical considerations of modernity and change taking on such salient issues as nationhood women's equality the state culture democracy and secularism A Thinking Person's Guide to Islam Ghazi bin Muhammad (Prince of Jordan), 2017 A Thinking Person's Guide to Islam H.R.H. Prince Ghazi Bin Muhammad, 2018 The world is at a crossroads today A tiny minority of Muslims seems to be bent on hijacking the religion of Islam and bringing it into perpetual conflict with the rest of the world Because of their actions very few non Muslims understand the real difference between Islam as it has always been and the distorted perversions of Islam today This book is an attempt to positively say what Islam actually is and always was as well as what it is not Lucid in its explanations unassailable in its logic a book of the moment simply spot on H E Muhammad Sa ad Abubakar The Sultan of Sokoto Nigeria Easy to read easy to understand and easy to swallow and digest It very beautifully explains what Islam really is how it is explained in its sacred texts and how it has been understood throughout centuries by the overwhelming majority of Muslims

Mufti Muhammad Taqi Usmani A very much needed book comprehensive yet concise easy to read and authoritative A must read book

Shaykh Muhammad Al Yaqoubi A salient account of a mighty faith drawn in deft strokes by an insider Edifying broad and stimulating
