Pinsof, Jay L. Lebow, 2005-09 Family Psychology The Art of the Science moves the field of family psychology toward greater scientific sophistication and excellence by bringing together some of the best researchers in family psychology and giving them the opportunity to reflect together on the state of their research This book is composed of five developmentally informed mini books or manuals on major areas of great social and health relevance marriage depression divorce and remarriage partner violence and families and physical health Each manual critically examines the existing research in its area systematically illuminating new directions for future research and discussing a wide range of relevant issues and diverse populations Family Psychology provides the next generation of theorists researchers and therapists with an in depth and fresh look at the paths that have already been traveled as well as the paths that remain to be explored Family Psychology is an indispensable companion for scientists and practitioners interested in a road map for family psychology The reflections of the top researchers in each area will sharpen the research knowledge and expertise of scientists and practitioners in these and related areas For younger and more experienced researchers as well as for those contemplating entering the field the authors point to pathways and strategies for unraveling the key challenges in each area offering well researched and compelling insights to guide future investigation

BOOK JACKET The Violent Couple William A. Stacey, Lonnie R Hazelwood, Anson Shupe, 1994-04-27 This book offers a social movement perspective on family violence framing the discovery of abuse toward women and men as a natural development flowing out of social movements of the 1960s and 1970s It combines clinical and statistical methods to yield a sophisticated understanding of the dynamics underlying spousal violence It examines both men s violence and the violence of their female partners both psychological as well as physical The problem of women s violence is one that has remained largely ignored compared to the mountain of research on men s violence toward women The authors present the first in depth examination of how when and why women instigate violence and why violent couples require a systems level intervention program rather than simply trying to counter male violence There is a strong consideration of factors that can work to reduce or eliminate the problem

Men and Rape Alan D. Berkowitz, 1994 Men have a responsibility to prevent rape Research on the causes of campus rape and sexual assault indicate that it is the experience of masculinity itself how men think of themselves as men that creates the psychological and cultural environment that leads us to rape and that this environment is perpetuated in men s relationships with and expectations of each other To be effective rape prevention work with men must therefore focus on men s experience This pioneering volume of New Directions for Student Services provides resources for professionals in higher education who want to work with men to reduce the incidence of sexual assault and rape on campus Extensive guidelines are provided for the development and implementation of a model rape prevention program for men including student perspectives on facilitating such a program Student personnel administrators interested in working with men to prevent rape and sexual assault will benefit from the theory research treatment models innovative programming student perspectives and resources reviewed in this volume

O'Sullivan, 1998 The Impact of Violence on the Family Dean M. Busby, 1996 Providing a comprehensive overview of treatment approaches this text is divided into two main sections intrafamilial violence violence that occurs between family members and extrafamilial violence violence that is inflicted on a family member from someone outside the family In addition to the ecological perspective several major themes are evident throughout the book making violence the primary focus of therapy emphasizing relationships in the healing process empowering survivors of violence and focusing on resiliency and strength in Society, 2004 Undoing Harm Mona Eliasson, 2004 Men who use violence against women ex partners constitutes a problem not only for the women but for all of society Different kinds of approaches are necessary to protect victims stop ongoing violence and prevent both repetition and initiation of violent acts to control frighten and dominate women Efficient programs have been developed and tried in different countries In this volume comprehensive assessments of needed interventions are presented together with research on the efficacy of programs by an international group of scholars from the field Altogether there are obvious differences in legal contexts philosophies and experiences in different countries results show that the combination of a legal and a re educational approach is both necessary and most effective for reforming most groups of violent men The combination of a carefully planned approach based on current knowledge and equally careful assessments and follow ups over longer periods of time seems to give the best results Research from a broad social and cultural perspective including gender in equalities can also be a tool for application and refining knowledge to improve interventions and reform violent men Differential Diagnosis and Treatment in Social Work Francis Joseph Turner, 1995 Woman Abuse Walter S. DeKeseredy, Ronald Owen Hinch, 1991 This book provides a broadly based analysis of woman abuse in Canada examining wife abuse premarital woman abuse rape and sexual assault and corporate violence Each section provides definitions statistics on incidence and distribution a discussion of the academic theories and views on why the behaviour occurs and an assessment of the strengths and weaknesses of the policies and approaches aimed at reducing or solving the problems Assessment of Family Violence Robert T. Ammerman, Michel Hersen, 1992-05-28 Almost every clinician at some time faces the challenge of evaluating individuals and families involved in domestic violence This invaluable sourcebook provides the kind of comprehensive understanding of epidemiological models intervention planning and standards of practice that will help practitioners address the causes effects future risks problems and issues that arise in a variety of family violence situations Edited by the expert team responsible for Treatment of Family Violence and written by leading figures in the field Assessment of Family Violence takes stock of over a decade of research and examines the strategies and measures that are vital to the effective assessment of family violence both in terms of treatment planning and legal requirements Assessment of Family Violence provides authoritative coverage of the assessment clinical and legal issues involved in dealing with family violence epidemiology of family violence involving both children and adults types of family violence including child abuse and neglect incest wife battering elder abuse and neglect and psychological abuse of women and special issues in the field including recently recognized areas of maltreatment such as child witnesses of marital violence adolescent perpetrators of incest and adult survivors of incest Rich in descriptive material assessment approach analyses legal considerations case illustrations and invaluable practical guidelines Assessment of Family Violence is an interdisciplinary and cross theoretical treasury for concerned clinicians counselors social workers and legal professionals Canada's Mental Health, 1990 The Military Family James Martin, Leora Rosen, Linette R. Sparacino, 2000-07-30 Today there are more military family members than there are total uniformed service members Sixty percent of the military are married including more than eighty percent of all career status personnel and many have small children They come from diverse racial and ethnic backgrounds and they represent a wide variety of family types including single parents dual career military couples and families with eldercare responsibilities In an effort to cut costs many of the services utilized by military families are being privatized or outsourced to civilian service providers This guide is designed to benefit anyone who provides services to these families particularly those who may have little or no prior knowledge of the unique nature of military families and military family life This book contains research based information about the unique needs of military families across various duty related conditions as well as within the context of military career demands Its multi service focus addresses the provision of human services in both peace and wartime Topics include military spouse employment retirement issues family support during deployments the New Parent Support Program and the experiences of adult children of military parents The authors encourage an understanding of military community based programs and services and they offer the reader numerous resources for collaboration with the military community

Families

Clinical Psychology in Ireland Alan Carr,2000

Casebook in Abnormal Psychology Timothy A. Brown,David H. Barlow,2007 Using cases taken from the authors case files or from case files of other working clinicians this casebook portrays the rich and arresting nature of disorders as they manifest in real people Cases illustrate every major DSM IV category and are followed by a therapy outcome section which gives the rest of the story of what happened to these clients Using an integrative approach the authors emphasize the multiple causes of disorders and incorporate developmental and cultural issues in each case Two complex cases are included without a diagnosis to give students an opportunity to come up with diagnoses on their own This third edition includes a new case on Anorexia Nervosa reflecting the current prevalence of this disorder Publisher s website

Treating Men Who Batter Theory Practice And Programs: Bestsellers in 2023 The year 2023 has witnessed a remarkable surge in literary brilliance, with numerous engrossing novels captivating the hearts of readers worldwide. Lets delve into the realm of popular books, exploring the captivating narratives that have enthralled audiences this year. Treating Men Who Batter Theory Practice And Programs : Colleen Hoover's "It Ends with Us" This poignant tale of love, loss, and resilience has captivated readers with its raw and emotional exploration of domestic abuse. Hoover expertly weaves a story of hope and healing, reminding us that even in the darkest of times, the human spirit can triumph. Uncover the Best : Taylor Jenkins Reids "The Seven Husbands of Evelyn Hugo" This intriguing historical fiction novel unravels the life of Evelyn Hugo, a Hollywood icon who defies expectations and societal norms to pursue her dreams. Reids compelling storytelling and compelling characters transport readers to a bygone era, immersing them in a world of glamour, ambition, and self-discovery. Treating Men Who Batter Theory Practice And Programs : Delia Owens "Where the Crawdads Sing" This captivating coming-of-age story follows Kya Clark, a young woman who grows up alone in the marshes of North Carolina. Owens weaves a tale of resilience, survival, and the transformative power of nature, entrancing readers with its evocative prose and mesmerizing setting. These top-selling novels represent just a fraction of the literary treasures that have emerged in 2023. Whether you seek tales of romance, adventure, or personal growth, the world of literature offers an abundance of compelling stories waiting to be discovered. The novel begins with Richard Papen, a bright but troubled young man, arriving at Hampden College. Richard is immediately drawn to the group of students who call themselves the Classics Club. The club is led by Henry Winter, a brilliant and charismatic young man. Henry is obsessed with Greek mythology and philosophy, and he quickly draws Richard into his world. The other members of the Classics Club are equally as fascinating. Bunny Corcoran is a wealthy and spoiled young man who is always looking for a good time. Charles Tavis is a quiet and reserved young man who is deeply in love with Henry. Camilla Macaulay is a beautiful and intelligent young woman who is drawn to the power and danger of the Classics Club. The students are all deeply in love with Morrow, and they are willing to do anything to please him. Morrow is a complex and mysterious figure, and he seems to be manipulating the students for his own purposes. As the students become more involved with Morrow, they begin to commit increasingly dangerous acts. The Secret History is an exceptional and suspenseful novel that will keep you wondering until the very end. The novel is a cautionary tale about the dangers of obsession and the power of evil.
