Superstition Research

Have you ever been told that breaking a mirror will bring bad luck? Or that you never walk underneath a ladder or spill salt? These are all examples of superstitions. A superstition is a long-held belief that specific actions can bring good or bad luck. Superstitions have existed for centuries, and every culture has developed its own set of them.

In W.W. Jacobs' story, "The Monkey's Paw," the narrative is based on a superstition that a monkey's paw possesses magical powers.

Directions: Your task is to research three specific superstitions. For each one, answer the following questions:

1. What is the superstition?
2. What does it mean, or what is believed to happen?
3. Where or how did it originate?

Be sure to cite your sources!
