Josef Škvorecký's The Engineer of Human Souls, and His Position in Canadian Literature Nina Nanut,2015 In this thesis I will be discussing Canadian literature and its classification focusing on ethnic Canadian literature more precisely on Czech migr writing In order to help understand the branching of different types of Canadian literature I will first have to briefly discuss multiculturalism in Canada For society has an enormous impact on the literature within a country My main topic of the thesis is Josef kvoreck and his most famous novel The Engineer of Human Souls kvoreck immigrated to Canada in 1969 after the Prague Spring in 1968 escaping the communist regime in his native Czechoslovakia He wrote more than half of his literary work in his adopted country including The Engineer of Human Souls The novel is a semi autobiographical work describing Czechoslovakia during the Second World War and the Stalinist era and Toronto in the mid 1970s focusing on the lives of Czechoslovak exiles and their adaptation on and view of Canada I will also try to distinguish which branch of literature kvoreck falls under ethnic or national Canadian literature Considering the fact that he wrote all his literary work in the Czech language it is difficult to say whether he can be considered a justifiable Canadian writer The Nonconformists Brian K. Goodman,2023-06-20 The Cold War was an era of surprising connections between American and Czech literary cultures Major writers met behind the Iron Curtain while others smuggled translated and adapted works from the other side Brian K Goodman explores the artistic and political consequences arguing that the movement of literature inspired new forms of dissent Trends in Chinese Education Chen Hongjie,W.
