Some People, Some Other Place J. California Cooper, 2006-04-04 For generations Eula Too's family has been making a journey North year after year step by painful step and she's determined to be the one to make it all the way to Chicago In and out of school taking care of her fourteen brothers and sisters she can see no way out But when a new family burden threatens to overwhelm her she at last leaves for the city only to find that her life gets even tougher Ranging from the Deep South at the turn of the century to a diverse contemporary town filled with people striving for a better life Some People Some Other Place is J California Cooper at her irresistible surprising best

Reading Seminars I and II Richard Feldstein, Bruce Fink, Maire Jaanus, 1996-02-22 In this collection of essays Lacan's early work is first discussed systematically by focusing on his two earliest seminars Freud's Papers on Technique and The Ego in Freud's Theory and in the Technique of Psychoanalysis These essays by some of the finest analysts and writers in the Lacanian psychoanalytic world in Paris today carefully lay out the background and development of Lacan's thought In Part I Jacques Alain Miller spells out the philosophical and psychiatric origins of Lacan's work in great detail In Parts II III and IV Colette Soler Eric Laurent and others explain in the clearest of fashions the highly influential conceptualization Lacan introduces with the terms symbolic imaginary and real Part V provides the first sustained account in English to date of Lacan's reformulation of psychoanalytic diagnostic categories neurosis perversion psychosis and their subcategories their theoretical foundations and clinical applications ample case material is provided here Parts VI and VII of this collection take us well beyond Seminars I and II relating Lacan's early work to his later views of the 1960s and 1970s Slavoj Zizek explores the complex philosophical relations between Hegel and Lacan regarding the subject and the cause And Lacan's article On Freud's Trieb and the Psychoanalyst's Desire that appears here for the first time in English and is brilliantly unpacked by Jacques Alain Miller in his Commentary on Lacan's Text takes a giant step forward to 1965 where we see a crucial reversal in Lacan's perspective desire is suddenly devalued the defensive inhibiting nature of desire coming to the fore What then becomes essential is the drive as an activity related to the lost object that produces jouissance

Grotesque Purgatory Henry W. Sullivan, 1996 In this carefully researched and challenging study Sullivan shows that chapters 22-24 the Cave of Montesinos episode represent an entrance into Purgatory while chapter 55 is the exit from this realm The Knight and his Squire are made to suffer excruciating torments in the chapters in between experiencing a Purgatory in this life This original reading of the book is coupled with an explanation that this Purgatory is grotesque since Don Quixote's and Sancho's sins are venial and can thus be cleansed by theological means against a background of comedy By combining these two aspects Sullivan exposes both the deeply agonizing and the comic aspects of the text In addition the combination of theological interpretation and Lacanian analysis to show Don Quixote's salvation cure in this life results in a truly comprehensive vision of the Knight's progress

Philosophy, Ethics, and Politics Paul Ricoeur, 2020-10-28 In this series of interviews and dialogues which took place between 1981 and 2003 Paul Ricoeur addresses some of the central questions of political philosophy and ethics justice violence war the environmental crisis the question of evil ethical and political action in the polis Philosophical issues are brought to bear on present day concerns and the practical realities of contemporary politics How can the philosopher speak about politics without claiming superior insight or a higher order of knowledge Ricoeur distinguishes three levels of society tools modes of production and the accumulation of technology institutions which are tied to national cultures and values which claim to be universal The philosopher s task is to probe each of these levels and open up spaces for reflection criticism and democratic deliberation It is to explore the paradoxes of the political rather than invoking certainties dictated by conscience Just as there no longer exists a grand narrative about the past so too there is no longer any utopia capable of projecting the desired future What remains is human creativity which marks the source common to the institutional frameworks that are already present and the horizons that extend beyond them The philosopher s engagement lies in the promise to revive this source at the very moment it appears to dry up under the weight of the real This volume of interviews and dialogues with one of the most important French philosophers of the post war period will be of interest to anyone interested in the great political and ethical questions of our time
