Thing About Roy Fisher:

The Thing about Roy Fisher John Kerrigan, Professor of English 2000 John Kerrigan, Sol, Peter Robinson, 2000-01-01
The Thing about Roy Fisher is the first critical book to be dedicated to the work of this outstanding poet who has won many admirers for his explorations of the modern city his experiments with perception and sensory experience his jazz inspired prose and his political and cultural comedies The collection brings together a distinguished group of contributors poets and critics from several generations active on both sides of the Atlantic In a dozen newly commissioned essays they discuss the entire range of Roy Fisher's work from its fraught beginnings in the 1950s through such major texts of the 1960s and 1970s as City The Ship's Orchestra and Wonders of Obligation to A Furnace his 1980s masterpiece and beyond The essays are closely engaged with the fabric of Fisher's verse but they also bring into view a fascinating array of connections between contemporary poetry and philosophy psychology the visual arts and jazz The Thing about Roy Fisher ends with a full and up to date bibliography an essential starting point for further study of this versatile and complex writer whose centrality and importance within modern English and European poetry is now more than ever apparent Kerrigan and Robinson's collection provides a helpful introduction to Roy Fisher's work and will be necessary reading for anyone with a live interest in modern poetry If you haven't been introduced before meet Roy Fisher a major figure of twentieth century literature inventive exciting and unpredictable Eleanor Cooke Raw Edge Roy Fisher's work is something altogether rare in contemporary British poetry David Sexton The Sunday Times Roy Fisher, Nineteen Poems and an Interview Roy Fisher, Jed Rasula, Mike Erwin, 1975-01-01 An Unofficial Roy Fisher Roy Fisher, Peter Robinson, 2010 Published to coincide with the poet's eightieth birthday An Unofficial Roy Fisher is a showcase for the work of this extraordinary contemporary British poet It begins with an unofficial gathering of poems and prose pieces covering the writer's entire career none of which are to be found in The Long and the Short of It Poems 1955-2005 his most recent collected edition This is followed by a poet's poets anthology of works by Fisher's extensive international following among significant contemporaries and juniors including Fleur Adcock Peter Didsbury Laurie Duggan August Kleinzahler R F Langley Angela Leighton John Matthias Tom Raworth and John Wilkinson This is followed by a group of informal essays and other prose comments on working with Fisher or Fisher's work by among others Charles Lock Peter Makin Ralph Pite Richard Price and David Wheatley All in all An Unofficial Roy Fisher is a must have for the poet's fans new and old with its sequence of intriguing insights into the oeuvre and abiding significance of this unique literary artist The Routledge Handbook of Literature and Space Robert Tally Jr., 2017-01-06 The spatial turn in literary studies is transforming the way we think of the field The Routledge Handbook of Literature and Space maps the key areas of spatiality within literary studies offering a comprehensive overview but also pointing towards new and exciting directions of study The interdisciplinary and global approach provides a thorough introduction and includes thirty two essays on topics such as Spatial theory and practice Critical methodologies Work sites

Cities and the geography of urban experience Maps territories readings The contributors to this volume demonstrate how a variety of romantic realist modernist and postmodernist narratives represent the changing social spaces of their world and of our own world system today

The Poetry of Saying Robert Sheppard, 2005-09-01 In The Poetry of Saying Robert Sheppard explores an array of experimental writers and styles of writing many of which have never secured a large audience in Britain but which are often fascinatingly innovative As a published poet in this tradition Sheppard provides a detailed and thought provoking account of the development of the British poetry movement from the 1950s As well as analysing the work of individual poets such as Roy Fisher Lee Harwood and Tom Raworth The Poetry of Saying also examines the influence of the Poetry Society and poetry magazines on the evolution of British poetry throughout this period The overriding virtue of the poetry of this period is its diversity a fact that Sheppard has not ignored As well as providing a fascinating insight into the work of these poets The Poetry of Saying offers an insider's commentary on the social political and historical background during this exciting period in British poetry

Contemporary British Poetry James Acheson, Romana Huk, 1996-09-12 Devoted to close readings of poets and their contexts from various postmodern perspectives this book offers a wide ranging look at the work of feminists and post feminist poets working class poets and poets of diverse cultural backgrounds as well as provocative readings of such well established and influential figures as Donald Davie Ted Hughes Geoffrey Hill and Craig Raine Contributors include many respected theorists and critics such as Antony Easthope C L Innes John Matthias Edward Larrissy Linda Anderson Eric Homberger Alastair Niven R K Meiners and Cairns Craig in addition to new writers working from new theoretical perspectives Their approaches range from cultural theory to poststructuralism each essayist addresses a general audience while engaging in debates of interest to postgraduates and specialists in the fields of twentieth century poetry and cultural studies The book's strength lies in its diversity at every level

Twentieth Century Poetry Peter Robinson, 2005 Peter Robinson's third book of literary criticism presents a sequence of chapters exploring ways that selves and situations interact and become imaginatively identified with each other in poems Readings of works by Ezra Pound Basil Bunting Louis MacNeice W S Graham Elizabeth Bishop Allen Curnow Charles Tomlinson Mairi MacInnes Tom Raworth and Roy Fisher share an interest in how poems can be both attached to and detached from the culture society and conditions in which they were written These studies draw out and underline both the ubiquity and elusiveness of the self in the situation of the text The poems studied here are also discussed as focal points for relations between readerly and writerly selves and their situations in and over time

The Dow Low Drop Roy Fisher, 1996 The Dow Low Drop celebrates forty years of Roy Fisher's wonderfully witty and anarchic poetry In delicate playful excursions through a world of sense and perception he captures the flavour of hide and seek reality or diffident experience Roy Fisher's poetry is most often associated with the post industrial landscape of the Midlands but it is universal in its appeal He is a keenly experimental writer who draws from situations perceptions and emotions which go beyond time or place His poetry's ultimate domain is the imagination Roy

Fisher is a jazz pianist as well as a writer and there is an improvisatory freedom in the natural correspondences he uses to track life's oddities and surprises. But he is also a great pleasure seeker. The reputation he gained in the 60s and 70s as a difficult poet is wrong; this book shows that he is one of the funniest, most open and liberating writers of his generation. Another good reason to celebrate this exciting introduction to Fisher's brilliant and beautiful work. This selection draws on the full range of Roy Fisher's poetry, including classics such as The Thing About Joe Sullivan, City A Furnace and The Dow Low Drop itself, a new sequence published here for the first time. This selection is now out of print, having been superseded by The Long and the Short of It. Turning the Prism Roy Fisher, Robert Sheppard, 1986 Poems, 1955-1987 Roy Fisher, 1988 Roy Fisher, a well-established poet, occupies a unique position in the tradition of British post-war poetry. Although his subject matter often focuses on Englishness, his poetic techniques have strong affinities with European traditions. This collection reproduces the work collected in Poems 1955-1980 with the addition of a substantial group of recently written poems. Fishing by Obstinate Isles Keith Tuma, 1998 This text investigates modern British poetry and the death of that poetry in American critical circles. It explores the relations of British and American poetics, challenging reductive American views of British poetry. Interviews Through Time & Selected Prose Roy Fisher, 2000 Poetics A kind of biography in poetics. INTERVIEWS THROUGH TIME AND SELECTED PROSE weaves disparate threads into a narrative guide to the life and work of British poet Roy Fisher. Fisher's intelligent, candid voice comes alive in this carefully edited selection of interviews from 1975 to 1998, the picture is filled out by an autobiographical piece that covers the poet's early years by Fisher's own tongue-in-cheek review of his last collection and by five of the Talks for Words that he recorded for the BBC in the late 1970s. Writing in Poets of Britain and Ireland since 1960 Deborah Mitchell lauded Fisher's ability to combine an openness to a wide range of international and modernist influences with a scrupulous honesty towards his experience and a healthy distrust of the bogus and the metaphysical. SPD also carries Fisher's chapbook IT FOLLOWS THAT. The Molsons Bank v. Berman, 224 MICH 606 (1923), 1923 77 Paul Lester and Roy Fisher Paul Alfred Lester, Roy Fisher, 1986 Four Poems Roy Fisher, 1976-01-01 The Smart Set, 1921 Rhode Island Red Journal, 1930 Stand Jon Silkin, 1977 Wyandotte Herald, 1930 Alumni Report Philadelphia College of Pharmacy. Alumni Association, 1907
