Pen on Fire Barbara DeMarco-Barrett,2004-10-04 In her fifteen years of teaching Barbara DeMarco Barrett has found that the biggest stumbling block for aspiring writers especially women is not fear of the blank page but frustration with the lack of time What woman doesn't have too much to do and too little time Finding an hour free of work children or obligations can seem impossible But anyone can find fifteen minutes whether you're sitting in traffic waiting at a child's soccer practice or watching the coffee drip DeMarco Barrett has created a practical inspirational guide for fitting serious writing into those stolen moments She offers writing exercises and techniques for generating ideas as well as pragmatic advice from the well known authors who appear on her radio show With fifteen minutes a day she can help you to ignite your pen and become the writer you have always wanted to be Library Journal ,2002 NCTE Guide to Teaching Materials for English, Grades 7-12. Supplement National Council of Teachers of English,1975 Writers, Writing on Conflicts and Wars in Africa Okey Ndibe,Chenjerai Hove,2009 Many African countries are caught up in perennial or recurrent political conflicts that often culminate in devastating wars These flaring conflicts and wars create harrowing economic hardships dire refugee problems and sustain a sense of despair in such countries By their nature these conflicts and wars affect writers in profound and sometimes paradoxical ways On the one hand literature whether fiction poetry drama or even memoirs is animated by conflict On the other hand the sense of dislocation as well as the humanitarian crises unleashed by wars and other kinds of conflicts also constitute grave impediments to artistic exploration and literary expression Writers and artists are frequently in the frontline of resistance to the kinds of injustices and abuses that precipitate wars and conflicts Consequently they are often detained exiled and even killed either by agents of state terror or by one faction or another in the tussle for state control Writers Writing Conflicts and Wars in Africa is a collection of testimonies by various writers and scholars who have experienced or explored the continent's conflicts and woes including how the disruptions shape artistic and literary production The book is divided into two broad categories in one several writers speak directly and with rich anecdotal details about the impact wars and conflicts have had in the formation of their experience and work in the second a number of scholars articulate how particular writers have assimilated the horrors of wars and conflicts in their literary creations The result is an invaluable harvest of reflections and perspectives that open the window into an essential but until now sadly unexplored facet of the cultural and political experience of African writers The broad scope of this collection covering Darfur the Congolese crisis Biafra Zimbabwe South Africa among others is complemented by a certain buoyancy of spirit that runs through most of the essays and anecdotes _____
