Teaching Gender And Multicultural Awareness:

Teaching Gender and Multicultural Awareness Phyllis Bronstein, Kathryn Quina, 2003 Teaching Gender and Multicultural Awareness provides information about how to integrate topics of diversity into a variety of psychology courses and programs of study Because psychology now contains a rich body of knowledge that reaches across gender social and cultural lines a single class about gender or cross cultural studies is no longer sufficient to teach students about multiculturalism Instead such issues need to be incorporated into each part of the psychology curriculum This edited volume helps instructors integrate information about diversity into their classes and directs them to useful printed video and Internet resources It also includes creative projects and exercises that they can use in introductory or graduate level courses Filled with guidance by expert teachers this book is a resource for educators who seek effective methods to give students a comprehensive understanding of the culturally evolving world in which they will live and work PsycINFO Database Record c 2004 APA all rights reserved

Gender and Women's Leadership Karen O'Connor, 2010-08-18 This work within The SAGE Reference Series on Leadership provides undergraduate students with an authoritative reference resource on leadership issues specific to women and gender Although covering historical and contemporary barriers to women's leadership and issues of gender bias and discrimination this two volume set focuses as well on positive aspects and opportunities for leadership in various domains and is centered on the 101 most important topics issues questions and debates specific to women and gender Entries provide students with more detailed information and depth of discussion than typically found in an encyclopedia entry but lack the jargon detail and density of a journal article Key Features Includes contributions from a variety of renowned experts Focuses on women and public leadership in the American context women's global leadership women as leaders in the business sector the nonprofit and social service sector religion academia public policy advocacy the media sports and the arts Addresses both the history of leadership within the realm of women and gender with examples from the lives of pivotal figures and the institutional settings and processes that lead to both opportunities and constraints unique to that realm Offers an approachable clear writing style directed at student researchers Features more depth than encyclopedia entries with most chapters ranging between 6 000 and 8 000 words while avoiding the jargon and density often found in journal articles or research handbooks Provides a list of further readings and references after each entry as well as a detailed index and an online version of the work to maximize accessibility for today's student audience
