Work And The Gift:

The Work and the Gift Scott Cutler Shershow, 2005-06-15 Considers how in a wide range of western culture and thought the ideas of working and giving remain locked in a fatal dilemma each one representing the other's aspirations and absolute limit Ranging from Marx and Derrida to Friedrich Hayek and Alvin Toffler Scott Cutler Shershow here explores the predictions of political thinkers on both the left and the right that work is fundamentally changing or even disappearing the debates among anthropologists and historians about an archaic gift economy that preceded capitalism and might reemerge in its wake contemporary political battles over charity and social welfare and attempts by modern and postmodern artists to destabilize the work of art as we know it BOOKJACKET

The Gift of Work Bill Heatley, 2008 The way you approach your work probably isn't the way God intended it Learn to shift perspectives to see work as a gift Engineering-contracting, 1909

Debating Sex Work Jessica Flanigan, Lori Watson, 2019-10-21 Prostitution is often referred to as oldest profession Critics of this expression redescribe it as the oldest oppression Debates about how best to understand and regulate prostitution are bound up with difficult moral legal and political questions Indeed it can be approached from numerous angles is buying and selling sex fundamentally wrong How can it possibly be regulated How can sex workers be protected if they are allowed to work at all In this concise for and against volume ethicists Lori Watson and Jessica Flanigan engage with each other on the nature and consequences of sex work revealing new and profound ways in which to understand it The volume opens with a joint introduction before Lori Watson first argues for a sex equality approach to prostitution in which buyers are criminalized and sellers are decriminalized also known as the Nordic model Watson defends the Nordic Model on the grounds that prostitution is an exploitative and unequal practice that only entrenches existing patterns of gendered injustice Full decriminalization of prostitution only stymies existing occupational health and safety standards and securing worker autonomy and equality Further to Watson drawing a distinction between sex trafficking and prostitution is irrelevant for public policy what underpins them is demand which fuels the inequalities of both That is what needs to be addressed In a rebuttal Jessica Flanigan contends that sex work should be fully decriminalized because restrictions on the sale and purchase of sex violate the rights of sex workers and their clients She argues that decriminalization is preferable to policies that could expose sex workers and their clients to criminal penalties and leave them at the mercy of public officials Putting these two views on sex work into conversation with one another and opening up space for readers to weigh both approaches the book provides a thorough accessible exploration of the issues surrounding sex work written with both sympathy and philosophical rigor

Rembrandt, Vermeer, and the Gift in Seventeenth-Century Dutch Art Michael Zell,2025-10-01 Rembrandt Vermeer and the Gift in Seventeenth Century Dutch Art offers a new perspective on the art of the Dutch Golden Age by exploring the interaction between the gift s symbolic economy of reciprocity and obligation and the artistic culture of early modern Holland Gifts of art were pervasive in seventeenth century Europe and many Dutch artists like their counterparts elsewhere embraced gift giving to cultivate relations with patrons art lovers and other members of their social networks Rembrandt also created distinctive works to function within a context of gift exchange and both Rembrandt and Vermeer engaged the ethics of the gift to identify their creative labor as motivated by what contemporaries called a love of art not materialistic gain In the merchant republic s vibrant market for art networks of gift relations and the anti economic rhetoric of the gift mingled with the growing dimension of commerce revealing a unique chapter in the interconnected history of gift giving and art making
