Writing for Meaning Michael Shea,1988-01-01      Writing for Meaning Michael Shea,2002      Research in Basic Writing Martin Jacobi,Michael G. Moran,1990-02-15 This reference handbook surveys research on the central issue associated with the teaching of unprepared writers Though basic writing has only been recognized as a distinct area of teaching and research since 1975 the existing bibliographic texts already seem limited due to their age or lack of annotation This volume provides current and extensive bibliographic essays and will help to define this new field of study for teachers and researchers Following an introduction that summarizes the origins and significant texts in basic writing the book is divided into three sections Social Science Perspectives Linguistic Perspectives and Pedagogical Perspectives The first section which contains three essays views the field through the lens of social psychological and political issues The second section also containing three essays examines contributions made from studies of grammar dialects and second language acquisition The third section in its four essays focuses on the design development administration and evaluation of basic writing courses the use of computers in basic writing classrooms the role of the writing lab and the preparation of basic writing teachers An appendix that reviews current textbooks for basic writing courses is also included as well as an index This book will be a valuable resource for teachers of basic writing in education courses and workshops that train teachers and tutors and in fields such as linguistics technical writing and Teaching English as a Second Language It will also be an important addition to public and university libraries and many education programs      Paperbound Books in Print ,1992      Subject Guide to Books in Print ,1991      El-Hi Textbooks and Serials in Print, 1996 R R Bowker Publishing,Bowker,1996-02      Using Math in this Millennium 4 Tm ,      English in Action'2000 Ed. ,      Forthcoming Books Rose Arny,1988-07      Speaking by Doing; a Public Speaking Work-text William E. novel as literary territory Sex Work Text Work Mapping Prostitution in the Nineteenth Century French Novel explores how prostitutes depicted by mile Zola Joris Karl Huysmans Edmond de Goncourt Adolphe Tabarant and Charles Louis Philippe write back confounding civil and literary efforts to contain them in space and in narrative In city regulated brothels brasseries femmes Haussmannian boulevards and the novel itself working class prostitutes served to reinforce the boundaries of social inclusion and exclusion And yet Jessica Tanner contends even the novels that most explicitly aligned with the disciplinary logic of regulated prostitution make space for a distinctly literary form of resistance these women elude or disrupt the mapping that would claim them as literary territory revealing their authors failure to secure their narratives as property Tanner pushes back against the critical tendency to attribute agency only to courtesans who became published authors and forwards a new framework for understanding the political work novels engage in as they circulate Observing that debates about the regulation of prostitution surfaced in tandem with racialized anxieties about the boundaries of the French nation Tanner ultimately expands that framework to the history of French colonialism and the politics of immigration in the current day This book shows that while sex workers have been recruited to mark the borders of civic and moral life prostitution can also make space for more inclusive forms of community both in the novel and in the world beyond its bounds
