Writing Talks:

Writing/talks Bob Perelman,1985 These talks represent a unique collective project with each contributing writer talking and responding to a community of peers for whom writing is a central activity rather than a cultural object The talks range from lecture to free for all conversation in form and from formal analysis to new modes of non narrative writing in subject Some of the writers examine their own work Others look at the work of contemporaries or earlier writers from Homer through Stein Olson and Spicer Other subjects considered include the theories of writing and desire feminist writing and gay writing and the effects of the arms race on contemporary writers

Using Talk to Support Writing Ros Fisher,Susan Jones,Shirley Larkin,2010-04-30 Using Talk to Support Writing presents a new and innovative approach to the teaching of early writing The authors discuss both theoretical and practical issues around using talk in the classroom to support children as they learn to write Set within the context of national concern for achievement in the development of writing ability it addresses the gap in understanding early teaching and focuses on the exploration of talk and writing interface

Reading, Writing, and Talk Mariana Souto-Manning,Jessica Martell,2016-05-14 This book invites readers to consider ways in which their language and literacy teaching practices can better value and build upon the brilliance of every child In doing so it highlights the ways in which teachers and students build on diversities as strengths to create more inclusive and responsive classrooms After inviting readers to consider and better understand the diverse language and literacy practices of diverse children it offers invitations for teachers to make these practices foundational in their own classrooms and to consider meaningful possibilities for learning authentically with young children in primary grades It features chapters that focus on oral language reading and writing development all while recognizing that these are not separate In each of these chapters readers are invited to consider diverse possibilities perspectives and points of view in practice within primary grades classrooms Throughout it offers ways to foster classroom learning communities where racially culturally and linguistically diverse children are supported and valued
