Transforming Teaching in Math and Science Adam Gamoran, 2003-01-01 Teachers often want to learn new ideas and approaches to improve their teaching but their efforts are often blocked by structural constraints in their districts and schools How can schools overcome these barriers to provide more supportive environments for change The authors answer this question through the study of six cases of schools and districts where teachers and researchers collaborated to develop teaching for understanding in math and science This new book features a new conceptual model of how school resources relate to teaching and learning focusing not only on material resources such as time and money but also on human and social resources methods that administrators can use to support teachers who want to improve their teaching of math and science elements that professional developers should look for in a school environment when they are considering working with staff on teaching improvements and answers to important questions including how schools operate as organizations how they control work how they respond to changes in their environment and how they improve classroom teaching and learning

Transforming Teaching and Learning in Higher Education Seng Chee Tan, Shen-Hsing Annabel Chen, 2020-07-07 This book chronicles the journeys of educational researchers and academics who have engaged in research and development to improve teaching and learning at universities It highlights the research evidence approaches and in many cases the journey of transformation rather than prescribing certain principles of and approaches to effective instruction In other words it not only describes the destination but also various pathways leading toward it Further it focuses on mechanisms for improving the approaches discussed rather than simply determining whether one works better than the other As such novice and seasoned academics and teaching staff in higher education will benefit from this book not just from the teaching and learning approaches it highlights but also from the insights into the respective journeys The research and development methods and approaches discussed here will also appeal to researchers working in teaching and learning in higher education

Transforming Teaching, Learning and Assessment for the Digital Natives Ashwak Abdulsalam Yousif, 2020-05-13 The changes that have been taking place in the digital age due to the advancements in technology are extensive The impact of technology has been more intensive on the young generation that was born after the 1980s New labels have been used to describe the young people who were born after the 1980s such as digital natives the Internet generation Google generation or the millennials These young people are more comfortable with the use of technology since they were born and grew up in the digital age Wherever they go and whatever they do they use their digital devices Everything has changed due to the use of technology but teaching learning and assessment procedures to some extent have very slight changes Most young learners go to schools sit in the classroom to receive knowledge from one or more teachers The use of technology has transformed our factories hospitals communication and transportation etc However the integration of technology in teaching and learning is still floundering especially in K12 education in many countries around the world What can educational technologies provide to our education systems and how can educators meet the needs and capabilities of the digital natives What teaching learning and assessment approaches that fit the learners in the digital era The purpose of this series is to provide non traditional perspectives and solutions to some of the current educational problems such as academic dishonesty academic dropout lack of motivation absence etc Transforming teaching learning and assessment approaches using digital technologies has the potential to improve the communication between the digital natives and immigrants The series will explore different educational problems in K12 and higher education institutions Suggested solutions that focus on what must educators and academics do to transform the traditional teaching learning and assessment approaches will be provided How can educational technologies give a hand to establish sound and better communication between digital immigrants and digital natives Transforming Teaching and Learning with ILT. ,2003 The Teaching Revolution William N. Bender, Laura Waller, 2011-08-15 Imagine the school of the future The Teaching Revolution challenges educators to imagine schools the way they should be with a big picture vision that includes student driven curricula interconnectivity and targeted responsiveness to students individual needs The authors provide a futuristic and provocative discussion on combining three major instructional innovations RTI technology and differentiation Drawing on the growing 21st century skills movement the text engagingly weaves these three areas into a vision for school transformation that includes Utilizing mobile technologies Web based instruction and social media RTI that benefits all students and whole schools in their improvement efforts Project based learning focused on answering real world questions The symbiosis of RTI technology and differentiated instruction is so impactful that it will soon dramatically reform teaching The Teaching Revolution will dare you to dream and guide you through the process of transforming education to become all that you can imagine Transforming Teaching and Learning in Higher Education Ruksana Osman, David J Hornsby, 2017-06-09 Universities face the prospect of becoming redundant unless the way teaching and learning takes place changes This book explores the idea of transformation and pedagogy In particular it will highlight how universities are transformed through a set of pedagogical interventions and stances that integrate a sense of moral and ethical purpose to learning Actively integrating cultural pluralism in developing knowledge and understanding aspires to liberate the learner from existing power structures by fostering a desire to challenge and change the social system in which we live and connects the reality around us and its many problems to the knowledge generation process Transforming Teaching Marie Masterson, 2021-03 Child centered lesson planning provides a system to strengthen teaching Great lesson planning helps teachers to choose a range of strategies that match what children are learning and doing from directed mini lessons to facilitated group activities Transforming Teaching and Learning Through Data-Driven Decision Making Ellen B.
