The Birth Project:

The Birth Project Judy Chicago,1985 Fifty full color and 350 black and white photographs illustrate the Birth Project exhibit conceived by Judy Chicago based on nearly one hundred of her works and needleworked by women across the country Between 1980 1985 Judy Chicago designed dozens of images on the subject of birth and creation to be embellished by needleworkers around the United States Canada and as far away as New Zealand Formatted into provocative exhibition units which included both needleworks and documentary materials these works toured the country and Canada eventually placed by Through the Flower in numerous institutions where they are on public view or used as part of university curricula Prior to the Birth Project few images of birth existed in Western art a puzzling omission as birth is a central focus of many women s lives and a universal experience of all humanity as everyone is born Seeking to fill this void Judy Chicago created multiple images of birth to be realized through needlework a visually rich medium which has been ignored or trivialized by the mainstream art community

Judy Chicago Vytautas Babusis,1986 The Birth Project is a celebration of birth but it also shows the anxiety agony of labor ambivalence of emotions in pregnancy and other aspects of birth and feminist goals Judy Chicago has created a mode of art to reveal how women feel about birth and life Vytas Babusis page 3

Musings on Perimenopause and Menopause Heather Dillaway,Laura Wershle,2021-04-23 A woman muses about buying lovely new panties another sets out on the trip of a lifetime a blogger offers information support and community to perimenopausal women researchers uncover myths and misconceptions about migrant and refugee women s experiences of menopause a gerontology scholar extrapolates for menopause the meanings of cultural representations of childbirth a sociologist and intersex advocate challenges her medically constructed menopause young women s stories inform an inquiry into the health and social repercussions of primary ovarian insufficiency all in a collection of research papers and personal narratives that moves far beyond the idea of menopause as a mere biological marker While biomedical and feminist researchers agree that menopause is a time of transition and border crossing they offer diverse viewpoints about whether perimenopause and menopause signal deficiency and burden or growth and freedom or both So too contributors to this collection influenced by factors of age cultural background societal context and physical and psychological experience vary significantly in their perspectives of this process Research analysis narrative poetry and art intermingle to create a multi textured montage that challenges stereotypes probes relationships and defies categorization Musings on Perimenopause and Menopause Identity Experience Transition provides insight into how women think about and experience the transition to menopause in contemporary times
