Systems Based Approach To Policymaking:

A Systems-Based Approach to Policymaking Kenyon B. de Greene, 2012-12-06 This book is based on a number of systems concepts of which the following are emphasized here: oThe interacting systems of society and the environment are dynamic and evolutionary oEvolution of these systems carries them through stages of differential stability and instability continuity and discontinuity oAssociated with evolution and instability is structural change that is essentially irreversible oThe present is a stage of world transformation that may not have been equaled for decades or even centuries oPolicies and decisions must match the times in the present case the stage of world transformation The time 11 59 59 PM approximately on December 31 2000 has an important symbolic meaning It marks the end of a minute the end of an hour the end of a day the end of a year the end of a decade the end of a century and the end of a millennium The time and date provide a convenient yardstick against which we can evaluate the evolution of our thinking and the adequacy of our assumptions mental models paradigms and policies Will the beginning turn out to be appropriately different from the end We hope that this book is helpful in such evaluation This is a new paradigm book which both presents and advances the new way of thinking about the systems of science technology society economics politics and the environment and actively calls for the replacement of the worn out cognitive sociotechnical paradigm
