The Concept of European Values Sanja Ivic, 2023-07-10 The Concept of European Values Creating a New Narrative for Europe offers a philosophical analysis of the concept of European values from its origin to the present day This book rethinks European values in light of the crises economic political migration identity and pandemic that the European Union EU has faced from 2008 until today and analyzes EU initiatives to create a new narrative for Europe Sanja Ivic reexamines the concept of European values as well as the philosophical and political assumptions on which this concept is based In times of crisis the EU has shown a lack of solidarity As evidenced by Brexit the migration crisis and the pandemic crisis the EU is experiencing a clash of national and postnational norms and values Ivic argues that the EU did not react in accordance with the supranational values and principles on which it is based as stated in Article 2 of the Treaty on European Union respect for democracy human dignity freedom equality the rule of law and respect for human rights Its reaction to these crises shows a turn from postnational values which the EU advocated as a supranational political community to nationalist paradigms

Vartija, 2021-08-06 The Enlightenment is often either praised as the wellspring of modern egalitarianism or condemned as the cradle of scientific racism How should we make sense of this paradox The Color of Equality is the first book to investigate both the inclusive language of common humanity and the hierarchical language of race in Enlightenment thought seeking to understand how eighteenth century thinkers themselves made sense of these tensions Using three major Enlightenment encyclopedias from England France and Switzerland the book provides a rich contextualization of the conflicting ideas of equality and race in eighteenth century thought Enlightenment thinkers used physical features to categorize humanity into novel racial groups in a discourse that was imbued with Eurocentric aesthetic and moral judgments Simultaneously however these very same thinkers politicized equality by putting it to new uses such as a vitriolic denunciation of slavery and inhumane treatment that was grounded in the nascent philosophy of human rights Vartija contends that the tension between Enlightenment ideas of race and equality can best be explained by these thinkers attempt to provide a naturalistic account of humanity including both our physical and moral attributes Enlightenment racial classification fits into the novel inclusion of humanity in histories of nature while the search for the origins of morality in social experience alone lent equality a normative authority it had not previously possessed Eschewing straightforward approbation or blame of the Enlightenment The Color of Equality demonstrates that our present day thinking about human physical and cultural diversity continues to be deeply informed by an eighteenth century European intellectual revolution with global ramifications Liberty, Equality, and Plurality Larry May, Christine T.
