Fassett,2019-11-13 Mediated Critical Communication Pedagogy explores the role of both traditional and new media in critical communication pedagogy This edited volume addresses not only how new and other forms of media serve as tools towards social justice in the communication classroom but also how those media transform the classroom interaction itself in empowering and disempowering ways Contributors describe and assess how particular instances of media use particularly the use of new media technologies support or challenge critical communication pedagogy Each chapter engages in critical analysis of how to effectively use particular mediums in the classroom how classroom communication is affected by uses of new media and particular instances of critical communication pedagogy in teaching Scholars of communication and education will find this book particularly useful      Government Control of Radio Communication ,1919      Emotive Communication in Japanese Satoko Suzuki,2006-01-01 It has become well recognized that affective dimensions of language constitute an integral part of the linguistic system Japanese provides a prime example of the significance of emotivity as it has grammaticalized a wide variety of expressions to communicate affective information The collected articles demonstrate the rich diversity of emotive communication in Japanese and analyze various expressions with theoretical perspectives that are often independent from Western models This volume reflects the influence of traditional Japanese scholars for whom examining affective relational aspects of language has long been a central concern The authors are also influenced by more recent scholars in Japanese pragmatics such as Susumu Kuno Akio Kamio and Senko K Maynard They also draw on anthropological notions such as the inside vs outside dichotomy that have been used to describe Japanese society
