Teen Idols:

Celebrity and Power P. David Marshall, 1997 The celebrity is an ambiguous figure in contemporary culture Simultaneously celebrated and denigrated stars represent not only the embodiment of success but also the ultimate construction of false value They are a peculiar form of public subjectivity that negotiates the tension between a democratic culture of access and a consumer capitalist culture of excess Celebrity and Power examines this dynamic questioning the cultural forces behind our need to become endlessly embroiled with the construction and collapse of celebrities Through detailed analysis of figures from Tom Cruise to Oprah Winfrey to the commercial pop music sensation New Kids on the Block author and cultural critic P David Marshall investigates the general public's desire to associate with celebrity He examines various kinds of stars questioning the needs each type fulfills in our lives and relating these needs to particular entertainment media Marshall asks why enigmatic distant stars populate the silver screen while television constructs approachable everyman figures and popular music features audience identified celebrity personalities He looks at the significance of stars who amass cultlike followings as well as those who appear to prompt outright rejection Celebrity and Power identifies the forces that have enveloped the development of democratic culture and their partial resolution through a redefined public sphere populated by celebrities Marshall argues that the new concern with the masses that characterizes modern capitalism promotes figures who can be seen as part of the crowd but who are articulated as individuals As such they provide a model of self differentiation that furthers an economy in which product consumption is thought to bestow individualism and personality Bridging the fields of media studies film studies communications and popular culture Marshall's volume is a unique resource for students and researchers in all of these disciplines as well as for the general reader P David Marshall is director of the Media and Cultural Studies Centre in the Department of English University of Queensland in Australia

Idol Talk Elizabeth Searle, Tamra Wilson, 2018-06-12 In the midst of acne social anxiety and training bras are the teen idols that make adolescent life a little more bearable Whether their cutouts are plastered on bedroom walls or hidden behind locker doors there is no denying the impact of these stars on young women This collection of new essays explores with tenderness and humor the teen crushes of the past 60 years from Elvis to John Lennon to Whitney Houston who have influenced the choices of women romantically or otherwise well into adulthood
