The Sculpture of Auguste Rodin Auguste Rodin, John L. Tancock, Rodin Museum (Philadelphia, Pa.), 1976 The Sculpture of Auguste Rodin John L. Tancock, 1990-12-01 Rodin Museum (Philadelphia, Pa.) Rodin Museum (Philadelphia, Pa.), The Rodin Museum, Seoul Kevin Kennon, Ruth Butler, Mario Gandelonas, 2001 Kohn Pedersen Fox's jewel like glass pavilion for the Rodin Museum evolved from the search to create a home for two seminal bronzes The Gates of Hell and The Burghers of Calais by Auguste Rodin. The tension created between the two pieces suggests gesture and dance which architect Kevin Kennon interpreted as a kind of pas de deux between two glass walls. To heighten the experience of the museum as a place of contemplation and spirituality the space is suffused in light with glass walls and ceilings of varying degrees of translucency. The serene space far removed from the bustle of the Seoul business district blurs the difference between West and East between art and commerce and between the nineteenth and twenty first centuries. For the very first time the 445 bronze sculptures kept at the Rodin museum are gathered and presented in the form of an annotated catalogue. Thanks to Antoinette Le Normand-Romain, director of the Institut National d'histoire de l'art, general curator for Patrimoine in charge of the sculptures at the Rodin museum from 1994 to 2000, it offers the reader to discover an essential part of the work of one of the Masters of sculpture Auguste Rodin. Each work is the subject of a thorough study. The notes, arranged alphabetically following the sculptures' titles and with inventory number, come with a rich technical apparatus: font type, founder, history, successive editions and other specimens known in public collections in France and abroad, related works and bibliography. It is followed by an exhaustive and precise comment explicating the creation and the evolution of the sculpture. Work after work, note after note, the sculptor is revealed and discovered freshly: the artist is omnipresent from the creating process to the research for new sheens for his bronzes. This catalogue raisonné is increased by an introduction by the author highlighting Rodin's then the museum's relationship to the founders. Ruth Butler presents the history of the
