The Borghese Collections and the Display of Art in the Age of the Grand Tour Carole Paul, 2017-07-05 The redecoration of the exhibition spaces at the Borghese palace and villa undertaken together with the reinstallation of the family's vast art collections was one of the most important events in the cultural life of eighteenth century Rome In this comprehensive study Carole Paul reconstructs the planning and execution of the project and explains its multifaceted significance its place in the history of Italian art architecture and interior design at a complex moment of transition from baroque to neoclassical style as well as its unrecognized but profound influence on the development of the modern art museum The study shows how the installations and decorations worked together to evoke traditional themes in innovative ways Addressed primarily to a new audience of tourists from abroad the thematic content of the spaces celebrated the greatness of the Borghese family and of Roman tradition while their stylistic diversity and sophistication made a case for the continued vitality even modernity of Roman art and culture Designed for the exercise of a highly refined social performance these sites helped to model the experience of art as a form of enlightened modern civility
